SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The financial success of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is going to exceed that of either St. Louis or Chicago, according to Controller Durkee.

When the exposition has been wrecked and its affairs wound up, said Durkee in a statement issued today, it will have, barring contingencies, a final cash balance of $1,941,550. In addition to this the exposition spent $1,036,000 in building the permanent municipal auditorium in the civic center and gave it the $250,000 pipe organ now in Festival Hall.

In comparison with this, St. Louis spent on the restoration of Forest Park $264,987.65; on the Jefferson Memorial, $476,565.05, and had left on hand $140,687.11; a total of $381,252.81.

Chicago paid a cash dividend of $1,948,955, and had in 1915 estimated.

MASKED BANDIT GETS SMALL SUM IN A HOLD-UP.

A bandit, armed with a heavy revolver and his face covered with a red bandanna with eye-holes cut out of it, held up Charles Moore of No. 3121 Manitou street, early this morning as Mr. Moore was proceeding to his home along Hancock street between Manitou and North Broadway. When a careful search of his victim's clothing disclosed only $4 in silver, the bandit appeared enraged, and threatened bodily injury if Mr. Moore did not get out of his sight in a hurry. Taking the hint, Mr. Moore hurried on, stopping at the nearest telephone to report the hold-up to the police. He was able to furnish an excellent description of the bandit.

PAPERS MISSING IN ENO ESTATE.

REQUEST TO COLLEGE CAUSES HEIRS TO ASK FOR AN ADMINISTRATOR.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Alleging that valuable papers had been destroyed, relatives contesting the will of Amos P. Eno, who died last October, leaving an estate valued at between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000, today appealed to the Surrogate Court for the temporary administrators of the estate. After providing for the relatives, the will gave the residuary estate, said to amount to $7,000,000, to Columbia University.

Attorneys for the contestants, who include Clifford and Amos R. Pinchot, asked that a member of the family be named as executor. William N. Cromwell, attorney representing a sister of the decedent, said that decedent had made many wills in his lifetime, but that in none of them had he mentioned Columbia University.

"He didn't believe in college," Mr. Cromwell said. "He believed in the self-made man. For this reason the family is firmly convinced that this is not the will of their uncle."

The court finally appointed the executors and William P. Eno, a brother of the decedent, as administrator.

Talking Delegate.

FORD, STRIKE AGITATOR, NETTLES THE ENGLISH.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Henry Ford declared intention of fomenting a strike of fighting men in the trenches undoubtedly will receive more serious consideration than hitherto has been bestowed on his so-called peace ship activities. There is only one opinion here as to what would happen to him if he were caught on such a mission in the neighborhood of any German trench.

German military regulations are explicit. There is no chance of his being able to reach French, British or Belgian trenches for if the allied governments should receive definite notice that Mr. Ford's misguided aim was leading him to make the attempt, it would be considered desirable to keep him well out of the danger zone, both for his own sake and with the object of obviating unnecessary complications.

There are many methods whereby this desirable consummation could be attained. Up to the present Mr. Ford has not distracted the British government from other occupations. Neither the Prime Minister nor even the most subordinate official in any government department has sat up nights evolving plans whereby to meet the developments of his peace campaign. Dispatches which English papers have printed about the peace ship have evoked only jests or sneers.

The publisher of one London paper said the other day: "We are announcing that we refuse Ford advertising. As we never had any of it, we lose nothing and please the Ford Company's rivals." Comments of the American press classed here have sufficiently shown that Ford is not taken seriously in his own country, and there is no disposition here to attach exaggerated importance to his crusade. British intelligence, as already indicated, it should become necessary to protect Ford and his companions from themselves and the consequences of his well-meaning but dangerous seal which can only arise from an utter misconception of the realities of this war.

In regard to Mr. Ford's assertion that Christmas Day will see a general strike of soldiers, with men climbing out of the trenches, throwing down their arms, and starting home, there can best be described as piffle. There is not the slightest evidence of the existence of any such spirit among the mass of German soldiers, whose fighting qualities receive ample testimony from both British and French antagonists who have had opportunities of judging, and any isolated instances of lack of discipline such as Mr. Ford predicts would only provoke rigorous suppression and punishment, which would add to the horrors Mr. Ford and his companions presumably wish to end.

It has been suggested that the American government should prevent the departure of the Ford mission, but it is not expected in well-informed quarters here that such action will be taken. The British authorities take a tolerant view of the propaganda of English pacifists, because they are a negligible quantity. It remains for the American government to determine whether Mr. Ford's mission aims at a "negligible quantity" or whether it is a serious and with serious possibilities of danger for its well-meaning but misguided apostles.

PLATEAU OF GORIZIA IS AGAIN THE SCENE OF DESPERATE FIGHTING.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

ROME, Nov. 30 (via London, Dec. 1).—The statement issued by the Italian War Office today says: "Along the Tyrolean and Trentino frontier with the exception of vain attempts by the enemy to attack against our positions at the head of the Schwarz Raetz, there have been only intense artillery bombardments. Our guns directed a destructive fire on the enemy's barracks and the railway station at Levico in the Valzuzana."

"In the Carnia region a lively artillery fire dispersed a column of the enemy troops on the march toward Giamondo Pass, while other enemy detachments were put to flight on Monte Lodin."

"On the upper Isonzo, in the region of Monte Nero, our troops have repulsed violent enemy attacks, directed especially against our new positions on the slopes of the Mrzi and Vodil mountains. "On the Gorizia plateau and the heights northwest of Gorizia, persistent bitter fighting enabled us to make some additional progress yesterday in the region between the Epouona Torrent and the main road from Foriano to Gorizia."

"On the Carso plateau, after carrying some of the enemy's trenches, our lines have now reached to within a few scores of yards of the hamlet of San Martino del Carso."

"During the course of the day's action we took from the enemy, 264 prisoners and two quick-firing guns, three bomb throwers, rifles and other war materials."

LONDON, Dec. 1 (2:43 a.m.)—Viscount Haldane, former Lord High Chancellor, discussing the possibilities of peace during a meeting in Kings Hall last night, declared that peace was more to be desired than any other thing at the present moment.

Nevertheless, the speaker predicted that no peace negotiations would be considered by Great Britain or her allies until Emperor William and the German war party had been thrown out of the saddle by the German democracy.

"The allies of a century ago," said Viscount Haldane, "were quite ready to make peace with France but not with Napoleon, so today, until we can deal with the real German people, whom we can trust and whom we know as sane contributors of many good things to the world's civilization, but who have temporarily yielded their place to false leaders, we do not care to talk peace."

CANADIAN WHEAT SHIPPED.

PORT ARTHUR (Ont.) Nov. 30.—Nearly ten million bushels of the grain commandeered last Saturday by the Canadian government had been cleared for the lower lakes from Port Arthur and Fort William at midnight tonight. Of the 9,940,000 bushels moved, 6,701,000 bushels were consigned to United States ports, the government having lent former owners enough grain to meet contracts.

Every effort is being made to move the grain at the head of the lakes before navigation closes. In the twenty-four hours ending before midnight tonight, thirty-one steamers cleared with 7,484,000 bushels of grain, of which 6,574,000 was wheat. This establishes a record for the handling of grain at these ports, the previous twenty-four-hour mark being slightly more than four million bushels.

ITALY'S POLICY KNOWN TODAY.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

ROME, Dec. 1.—Great interest attaches to the opening of Parliament today because of the statement Premier Salandra is expected to make concerning the part Italy is playing in the European war. The head of the government probably will explain what has been done thus far and outline the programme for the future so far as he can without giving information of military value to the nations arrayed against Italy. Only irreconcilable Socialists are expected to protest in any way against the war and it is believed a large majority of the Deputies will support the present government.

SEES HOPE IN BALKANS; SERB ARMY STILL EXISTS.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Gen. De la Croix, one of the leading French military authorities, has a signed article in the Temps this evening in which he says the Balkan situation should not be regarded too darkly, as the condition of the Serbian army, while critical is not yet desperate and that a resolute offensive by the Entente allies against Ispik and toward the Bulgarian capital may bring a decisive turn of events.

Gen. De la Croix points out that the Austro-Germans have not attempted a decisive test of battle, but have confined their efforts to overrunning the country with superior numbers. He declares that their plans failed in the main objective—the enveloping of the Serbian army. The army, although it has been driven westward, can still retire southwest by the Dvina Valley and effect junction with the Serbians in the south and with the allies. To obtain subsistence supplies, the writer says, is the main problem, but the Austro-Germans have the same problem before them, and it will soon increase as the snow soon will be from six to nine feet deep.

"It does not seem to me," says Gen. De la Croix, "that the situation should be viewed too darkly. The Serbian army is not yet beaten and its junction with the Entente allies is not impossible. The Serbs still have 150,000 men and the allies 300,000 available for resistance and offense."

Gen. De la Croix concludes with a strong appeal for a vigorous offensive by the Entente allies in the Vardar Valley with its objective straight toward Sofia.

California Congressmen to

Hundred Thousand Laborers

Marshall's Scheme for Half a

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—If the plans of California Congressmen are successful, the building of an ocean-to-ocean highway will be made part of the scheme of national defense.

On the opening day of Congress Representative W. D. Stephens of Los Angeles will introduce a bill to this effect. His bill will provide that the 100,000 or more workmen employed on the construction of the highway shall undergo military training as part of their duties and shall constitute the second line, the regular army being the first.

Mr. Stephens has not completed his bill, but told me about it today.

"Army men agree," he said, "that a great national road is as much a part of our national defense as guns. The work of the German army in this war has shown the wonderful advantage of rapid transportation. It is also agreed that what our army most lacks is an adequate reserve."

"From time to time there arises in this country an industrial crisis during which worthy and willing men cannot find work."

"The building of a great ocean-to-ocean highway can be made to allay the fear of such a crisis. I have not worked the idea out in detail, as yet, my idea is to construct the transcontinental highway in the form of a great oval. It will begin at Los Angeles, go east over the old Santa Fe trail, ending at Washington. The construction of the road is to be under the supervision of the President and through him under the officers of the Engineer Corps.

"The plan has often been considered to have the regular army do the work of road building, but this plan has always been discarded as impractical. My bill provides for just the reverse of this. The laborers on this road, also the clerks and overseers and all others connected with the work in any capacity are to be either under enlistment or under some special form of contract involving their continuance on the job for a specified term. All the workmen are to have military training, either physical or mental. That is to say, some of them are to be drilled by soldiers; others are to be trained in the clerical work of moving armies."

"My bill is to be a general term, but my idea is that a minimum of 100,000 men should be employed, the number to be capable of expansion at the time of any industrial depression."

"I don't know what will be the fate of such a bill under the present administration, but I am going to put it on record anyhow."

ANOTHER THEORY.

George Maxwell, the California irrigation expert, recently wrote a book expounding another, but not very different theory, and I am told that his theory will be embodied in another bill to be presented in the Senate. Mr. Maxwell's idea was to have a force of 500,000 men enlisted as an industrial army to do whatever government work happened to be on hand, such as Galveston flood relief, highways, etc., and to be drilled by army tactics on the side. He also provides for a third line of defense whereby men of military age are to be enlisted on public land, their tenure of the land involving military service at certain times of the year.

Jefferson Davis, the young San Diego attorney who is here in the interests of the San Diego plan for a national highway, also states that his plan will be introduced as a part of the national defense campaign.

State Department Hears England Will

Formal Representations are Made to the Foreign Office in London—Communication is Interpreted to be a Warning that the United States will not Tolerate the Impressment of American Craft.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—The State Department tonight made formal representations to the Foreign Office of London concerning reports that vessels belonging to the American Trans-Atlantic Company were about to be requisitioned by the British Admiralty.

In diplomatic parlance, the communication is known as a request for information concerning the facts, because all of the data in the possession of the department was presented by the owners of the vessels; and, while it is accepted as true, the department desires to have the British plan verified by the Foreign Office.

The communication in effect amounts to a protest and notice that the United States will not stand for such high-handed methods. In the event that Great Britain admits that she purposes to take steps to requisition the ships, tonight's communication will follow by a note of protest, and a sharp protest against the entire procedure.

There is no precedent for such action as is said to be contemplated by England. The law experts of the department are unacquainted with any precedent, or any theory of law or reason that would support such a course. They appear to believe that Great Britain is sorely pressed for ships just at present, and that she would be assisted greatly by using American vessels pending the adjudication of their cases before prize courts.

THE HOCKING CASE.
The Hocking, owned by the American Trans-Atlantic Line, which was seized by a British cruiser of several weeks ago and hauled into a Canadian port, has been referred to specifically as one of the vessels which the British authorities are seizing.

The report that she was to be pressed into British service was coupled with the statement that her hold would be filled with Canadian troops, which is choking the elevators along the dominion seaboard.

The administration already has queried the British government on the reasons that prompted her cruiser to seize the Hocking and in reply to the query the State Department has received a curt statement that the British authorities are seizing the vessel because it was found to be carrying contraband goods.

GERMAN REICHSTAG OPENS; PRESIDENT LAUDS ARMY.

BERLIN, Nov. 30 (via London, Dec. 1).—The opening of the Reichstag today was marked by an address of welcome by the president, Dr. Kaempf, in which he complimented Germany on the highly satisfactory military situation in the west and east and the successful conclusion of the Serbian campaign, and in a speech by the Imperial Secretary of the Treasury, Dr. Karl Helfferich, in introducing a bill arranging the preliminaries for the taxation of war profits.

Dr. Helfferich urged the speedy discussion of the bill. He estimated that it would impose a graduated scale of taxation, based on the amount of the war profits, and also would include a tax on incomes which had increased during the war, but he gave no indication of the extent of the prospective taxation.

TAX RATE UNCERTAIN.
The secretary said the government itself has as yet reached no conclusion on the taxation rate and it obviously would be unfair to make it a matter of law to regard the project as some wish to do, as a punishment for daring to make profits during the war. The primary object of the bill was to attempt to cover the colossal expenditures for the war, and for this purpose a considerable percentage of war profits must be passed into the government's coffers.

The bill was referred to a committee. The president's opening remarks to the house, which, as on previous occasions, showed a large proportion of members in army gray, were heard with enthusiasm.

FROM KAEMPF'S REMARKS.
He said: "While in the west the enemy's attempt to break through, undertaken with strong forces, failed, and in the east the German army, with the aid of its brave soldiers, held its ground and won in battles, which were boldly planned and heroically carried out; while on the Isonzo the Italian, by the force of arms, was attempting to conquer the least part of what, before the war, they could have got from Austria without striking a blow, in the Balkans feats of arms have been accomplished and events have occurred which, both from a military and diplomatic point of view, have been deemed through with splendid and unsurpassed certainty, and which have enabled us, in combination with our allies and with the Bulgarian army, to avenge the murder of Sarajevo and to bring to an end, as we hope, for all time, Serbian intrigues, which have proved to be so mischievous to Europe."

"In close union of arms with the brave armies of the King of Bulgaria and the Bulgarian people, we have crowned our victory. We welcome this from the bottom of our hearts. The Serbian army has been completely defeated. The Turkish army has lived up to its old reputation and has brought about the failure of the Dardanelles enterprise."

"Proud England is troubled about the key to her supremacy. All our enemies have recognized that we are invincible on the battlefield, and more eagerly do they cling to their hope to destroy us economically, to conquer us by hunger. As they allow themselves to be deceived regarding our financial strength, which has been proved by the astonishing results of our war loans, so they have also been deceived in their estimate of our economic strength."

"We have corn for bread, potatoes, the most important foodstuffs, are abundant. If in other things there may be a scarcity as cannot be disputed, yet the hardships thus caused to a majority of the poorest population will be surmounted by the organization of the provision market. We therefore financially and economically have every reason to contemplate the future with firm determination and unshaken confidence."

MODIFY MARTIAL LAW.
The Reichstag then adopted the first reading of the bill modifying certain features of martial law, giving the option of a fine instead of imprisonment for minor offenses.

There was a debate on the Socialist member, Herr Scheidemann, announced that the Socialists might take up the question of certain abuses in the treatment of prisoners of war. Dr. Helfferich then introduced a bill requiring companies and corporations to set aside 5 per cent. of their extra profits arising from the war to cover their ultimate taxation.

There was no public reference to the question of peace terms during the day's session.

ARMED TRUCE BY DEMOCRATS.

Caucus may Force Wilson to Yield to the Rebels.

Modified Closure Rule will be up for Discussion.

Likely to Re-elect Clark as President Pro Tem.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—Shivering in a little scared group with their arms appealingly around each other, the Democratic Senators are experiencing the kind of peace and harmony that goes with a scared feeling. Another Senatorial caucus takes place tomorrow and the indications are that the administration will yield to the "rebels" and re-elect Senator Clark of Arkansas as president pro tem.

Clark was one of the Senators who ran amuck last session and refused to support the President's ship purchasing bill. The others in rebellion included O'Gorman, Bankhead, Hardwick, Hitchcock and Vardaman.

It was understood that these insults were to be punished this session and the discipline was to begin by disposing Senator Clark as president pro tem. The rebels gave the administration to understand that it had better not start the old steam-roller going unless it was prepared for a young riot.

An almost equally bitter fight was threatened over the proposed closure rule. Senator Owen predicted that a drastic closure rule would be adopted this year to limit debate and put a stop to the old Senatorial form of indoor sports—talking a bill to death.

Some of the southern Senators threatened to bolt the caucus if any such attempt was made. Several northern Senators also have made clear their opposition to any such closure straining.

They all went to the first caucus today snorting for blood but it was an armed truce that took place instead of a riot.

With a treasury empty as a result of the Wilson tariff and with the necessity of making unusually heavy appropriations from a hurriedly pursued bill, it was pointed out by the party leaders that the Democrats will have plenty of battle without beginning any free fights among themselves.

It was agreed at the caucus that if the Democrats are to save themselves, they need a larger degree of harmony than they ever carried before. Punc-tuations and reprisals at the opening of the session would be a sure invitation to disaster.

Some of the Senate leaders said today they believed the opposition to Clark would be withdrawn and the attempt to bind the caucus to a rigid rule would not be pressed.

That some proposition of a modus vivendi sort, looking to closure only where a majority of the Senate decides there is an attempted filibuster, is all that will be adopted, it was predicted. Senator John Sharp Williams has a rule which contemplates this and the indications are that the caucus will not go to any farther.

The committee on a closure rule was in session throughout the morning considering the various propositions before it and trying to work out a rule on which there was some prospect of agreement. The proposition of Senator Norris, under which there would be no application of the rule for closure for the limitation of debate on a measure which had been taken up by party caucus, was one of the ideas which was considered. Senator Owen is opposed to the Norris plan. Senator Owen predicted that some plan for a moderate closure rule would be reported to the caucus tomorrow.

HAITI PROTECTORATE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The Aus-

TO REPEAL SEAMEN'S BILL.
Attempt Sure to be Made this Winter—Randall Wants to go on Postal Committee.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—Andrew Furuseth, the San Francisco labor leader who wrote the La Follette seamen's bill, is expected in Washington this week. He will remain here during the winter session to guard against any attempt to repeal the bill.
That an attempt will be made to repeal it is a certainty.

Senator Randall of Long Beach, who will be in the capital this year or two, is looking with anxiety toward the House caucus on Saturday when it is expected that committees will be discussed. He is anxious to become a member of the Postal Committee, having been in the House and service at one time and Long Beach being hungry for a new postoffice.

The expectation is that the members of the California delegation will be continued on their present committee assignments, which include some of the best plans in the House.
Stephens is a member of the Committee on Naval Affairs; Kahn, Millery; Keller, Rivers and Harbor; Hayes, Immigration and Banking; Nolan, Labor, and Baker and Kent, Public Lands.

WILSON IS "TOMMY" AGAIN.
President Gives Dinner at the White House in Honor of His Princeton Classmates of '79.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President
Wilson gave a dinner at the White House tonight in honor of the Princeton class of '79, of which he was a member. For the evening the President was again "Tommy," the name by which all his classmates knew him while they were together at the university. Fifty-nine members of the class, including Cyrus McCormick, Cleveland
H. Dodge and Robert Bridges, attended the dinner.

The President received his classmates in the blue room, and later conducted them to the state dining room, where a table had been arranged in the shape of a horseshoe.
No military or naval aides were present.

A number of informal addresses were made. The President was congratulated on his coming marriage and many stories of college days were told.

CONTRABAND NOTE BEING PREPARED.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President
Wilson and Secretary Lansing had a long conference today regarding the note on contraband, which the United States soon will send to Great Britain, and a number of other matters pending before the State Department.

Secretary Lansing let it be known that a great deal of care was being exercised in framing the contraband note, which will set forth basic principles and cite precedents at length.

GRANT HEARING TO SUFFRAGISTS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Miss Frances Joffie, Mrs. Sarah Bard Field and other advocates of a constitutional amendment for women suffrage, will be given a hearing before the House Judiciary Committee about Saturday, December 11, according to present plans of House leaders. Representative Webb, of North Carolina, who again will be chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said tonight that the request of the suffragists for a hearing probably would be granted.

Interests.
announcement from Washington that United States Attorney-General Gregory had recognized the claims of the California oil men to the extent of promising to do all in his power to protect holders of oil lands from unnecessary and unjustified litigation to do so would work injury to the oil men here with rejoicing.

The attitude of the Attorney-General, according to a statement issued tonight by Roy N. Bishop, president of the Oil Industry Association, was accepted as an evidence of his willingness to postpone further government activity in prosecuting suits unless the withdrawal of the oil men from California had been given an opportunity to pass on the requests of the oil men for legislative relief.

"The oil locators and developers of California," said President Bishop
"had in nearly all instances located and were engaged in the development of these lands when the first withdrawal order was made."

"We realize," his statement continued, "that the members of Congress must be satisfied absolutely of the fairness and justice of the claims of the California oil industry and those who in good faith have developed the public lands. This was the purpose to do, and we welcome the truth declared by the Attorney-General as giving us an opportunity to make good our claims and as a grateful, if partial, recognition of their equity."

MONEY FLOWING INTO RAILROAD.

Pennsylvania's Net Earnings Reflect Activity in East.

Company is Forced to Place an Embargo on Freight.

Great Southwest is Enjoying Unusual Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—October earnings of the Pennsylvania Railroad issued today reflect the enormous tonnage carried by that system, largely as a result of the high pressure of industrial activity along its lines, especially in the Pittsburgh district.

Total operating revenue of the entire system for the entire month aggregated $28,202, an increase of $5,248,191 over the same month of 1914.

Total operating expenses amounted to $25,999,562, an increase of $1,664,- 327, and operating income of $10,205,- 541 showed a gain of $2,582,564.

Lines east of Pittsburgh contributed over $24,000,000, or about two-thirds of the gross, and almost as much of the net returns. The statement is the more remarkable in view of the fact that the American flag was lowered, 1913, showed a decrease of slightly over $2,000,000.

RAILROAD CHOKED WITH BUSINESS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in a detailed statement issued here tonight shows that when the embargo on certain classes of freight was imposed by the company yesterday there were 6475 carloads of freight for export from New York on the various lines of the company. This total was decreased by 124 carloads today, the remaining cars being distributed at various points along the system. Four hundred and fifty of this total are laden with four and a half million commodities upon which embargament has been placed "because of the slowness with which these cars are being ordered for delivery at the terminal point."

The congestion of export grain at Philadelphia and Baltimore, which necessitated an embargo on that commodity billed for export at those ports, is shown by the statement that in addition to the 1,000,000 bushels of grain in the Girard Point elevator at 8 o'clock Monday morning there were 1778 cars containing 2,600,000 bushels of export grain on hand to go through the elevator. Of these cars 453 were standing in the Girard Point district and the others were being held at points west of Philadelphia until they could be taken care of. At the port of Philadelphia at the present time there are three boats loading grain, six waiting to load and four others are expected this week.

In addition to the 2,000,000 bushels of grain in the Baltimore elevator, there are 2829 cars containing 4,240,- 000 bushels of export grain on hand destined to go through that elevator.
Seventeen boats are waiting at Baltimore today to load grain, five of which have already received their cargoes.

"Despite all of the precautions which have been taken," the statement says, "there is considerable congestion in and around the New York terminals, but it is nothing more than can be expected with the very heavy movement of both export and domestic traffic."

The company is making strenuous efforts to handle the general freight movements so that there will be the least possible delay on all points on its lines to domestic business, such as export. The embargoes were placed to prevent congestion, rather than to relieve it. An embargo also protects the available car supply.

PROSPERITY BANQUET.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WACO (Tex.) Nov. 30.—More than 2000 citizens of Waco and vicinity partook of a prosperity banquet here tonight. Completion of a good roads system costing $1,075,000 was the immediate cause of the celebration. Business conditions in Central Texas are reported better than at any time since the European war began.

ARRANKANS ACTIVITY.
LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Nov. 30.—Unprecedented prosperity and business activity prevails throughout Arkansas, according to local bankers and business men.

Little Rock bank clearings today were said to be indicative of the revival of business, totaling $551,378 against $273,239 a year ago, an increase of $178,039.

LABOR IN DEMAND.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CLEVELAND (O.) Nov. 30.—The arrival of winter finds Cleveland millions moving briskly and the army of unemployed dispersed. The demand for labor is steadily increasing.
Workers in Cleveland factories and mills are better paid this winter than ever before, as 5 to 10 per cent.
increases in wages have been granted in almost every line of trade.

Bank clearings here for November were $155,547,334, a gain of $67,715,- 935 over November last year.

Colorado Enjoys a Boom.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
DENVER, Nov. 30.—Wholesale and retail trade report business conditions throughout the Rocky Mountain States exceptionally prosperous with money easy and collections improved over the last few years. Abundant crops, a rising market for silver and zinc and good prices for other metals have resulted in enlarged activities in farming and stock raising.
Bankers report money easy and deposits on the increase. Wholesale and retail collections decidedly predict an increased volume of trade.

In the last few weeks western railroads have placed large orders for rolls, while the demand in the wire and nail trade has gone chiefly into agricultural districts has established a new record for Colorado mills.

Embargo on Steel.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 30.—Announcement by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday of an embargo on steel products for export passing through the New York terminal will not seriously affect this district, only about twenty-five cars a day being shipped to that point, where some eighty cars make up the steel trains for Philadelphia and Baltimore.
Much of this freight, railroad officials said, was for foreign ports other than in Europe.

CAR CONGESTION STUMPS RAILROADS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Presidents of eastern railroads meeting today in the office of President Wood of the Pennsylvania lines to consider how to move from 40,000 to 60,000 cars of freight now held up along the Atlantic seaboard, decided to appoint a committee to deal with the question.

The committee, which will include representatives of all the roads interested, will commence its session tomorrow in the offices of the Trunk Line Association of which C. Currier
McCain is chairman.

Mr. McCain said that while extraordinary conditions might arise it was not likely any of the roads would take individual action in the shape of embargoes or otherwise until the committee had an opportunity to formulate its plans.

As a preliminary step of relief Mr.
McCain went to Washington today to the Interstate Commerce Commission an application to reduce the limit of thirty days necessary before the issuance of demurrage charges on goods in cars. Up to the present, goods shipped to eastern ports for export could remain indefinitely in cars without any demurrage charges in order to assure shippers of the necessity of arranging shipment within a reasonable time from the arrival of their goods at the seaboard. It is now proposed to impose storage rates on goods in cars.

LUMBER MEN BUSY.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—Merchants and bankers report business conditions in Washington better than for four years.
Some credit has been restored, and lumber will be sold at increased prices. Lumber mills and logging camps are in operation, there are no great masses of unemployed in the cities, and ocean commerce is making new records.
Collections are good and money is easily obtainable for any legitimate enterprise.

Southwest Crops Excellent.
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Nov. 30.—
Bumper crops and increased output of mine and factories, all marketed at war prices, have left a profit in Kansas City trade territory which will make the Christmas shopping season just opening the most prosperous known in many years, according to E.
M. Clendening, secretary of the Kansas City Commercial Club.

Throughout Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Southern Nebraska, Southern Iowa, and Western Missouri reports of unusual prosperity have stirred Kansas City merchants to enlarge stocks in preparation for heavy buying.

According to figures compiled by State officials in Topeka, the income to the people of Kansas alone from the sale of products of the State during the Christmas season amounted to $90,000,000.

Good Trade in the South.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 30.—The Southeast reports a booming early Christmas trade with merchants expressing optimism that December business will be the best in years. At Atlanta, Tampa, Savannah and Charleston report large stocks in retail stores, and accompanying large sales.

Waycross, Ga., is celebrating prosperity week. It has received greetings from President Wilson.

Big Improvement in Salt Lake.
SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 30.—Practically all lines of trade in the territory of which this city is the trade center report conditions tremendously improved over last year.
Some retail lines report an increase of 70 per cent., and the greatest holiday trade for several years past is anticipated. The recent advance in the price of silver and the good market for other metals produced here has greatly stimulated all commercial activities.

Heavy Trade in Portland.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 30.—Portland retail merchants report an unusually heavy holiday trade for this time of year and the wholesalers are beginning to feel the improvement in trade. An improvement in the lumber industry and a large agricultural yield in Oregon is held to be the chief reasons for better trade conditions.

New Orleans Sales Heavy.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—Wholesale reported that their November business

MONASTIR SURRENDERED TO BULGARIANS MONDAY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. F.]

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Monastir was formally surrendered to the Bulgarians on Monday, according to an Athens dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

On Sunday Col. Vassitch, the Serbian commander, informed the Greek council of his intention to surrender the city without fighting in order to avoid useless bloodshed. A commission composed of the Greek and Romanian Consuls and his priests was appointed to negotiate with the Bulgarians as to the handing over of the city and the commission went to the headquarters of the nearest Bulgar army for a conference.

Col. Vassitch left Monastir by the last train for Florina, while the British Consul proceeded by automobile to Greek territory with the archives.
Railway communication, adds the dispatch, has ceased between Monastir and Florina.

According to a Saloniki dispatch to the Times, dated November 29, communication with the Serbian tele-
up to that time, which seemed to indicate that the town had not been passed into possession of the Bulgarians.

SQUARE DEAL PROMISED TO INDEPENDENT OIL MEN.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—A committee of the California delegation, led by Senator Phelan and Representative Hayes, called upon the Attorney-General this morning and asked him if he would not stop bringing suits against the independent oil producers of California, pointing out that it wasn't getting anything by pouring out an avalanche of law suits all on the same disputed legal point.

The Attorney-General furnished each of the delegation with a nice handshake, but didn't give them a great deal in the way of satisfaction.
He said he had no desire to harass the oil men except wherein the interests of the government were in-jeopardy. He said that no suits had been commenced against one who had entered upon the land prior to the withdrawal from entry, and then only against those actually pumping oil. He promised to issue a statement on the subject during the next few days.

Early in this session of Congress the bill for the relief of the independent oil drillers affected by this legislation will be revived. During the last session such a bill passed the House, but was lost in the Senate on the question of the attempt of the President to jam through the government ship-ownership bill.

Nacozari Railroad is Again Seized by Rodriguez.

NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 30.—His forces defeated and scattered by the Carranza army of Gen. Manuel Diez, at Hermosillo, Francisco Villa, the outlawed Mexican leader, has gone insane, according to reports received here today by Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the Carranza military chief. The report, based on statements of prisoners, also states that Villa's present whereabouts are unknown. Gen. Diez's victory at Hermosillo is said to have been complete. Three hundred Villa soldiers were found wounded after the battle. Six hundred are said to have surrendered south of Magdalena, while 200 gave up their arms today at Llanos.

The remainder of Villa's forces, excepting those commanded by Gen. Jim Rodriguez, are declared to be demoralized and surrendering in small groups. Their trains, with two locomotives, were reported to have been abandoned at Magdalena, fifty miles south of Nogales, and 122 miles north of Hermosillo.

RODRIGUEZ SEIZES NACOZARI ROAD.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 30.—After defeating and driving back to Nacozari a Carranza force sent to operate against him, Gen. Jose Rodriguez, the Villa commander, who eluded the Carranza trap at Cananea ten days ago, gained possession today of the Nacozari railroad, and apparently laid out a plan to return to the Carranza town of El Tigre. At that hour the telegraph and telephone wires were cut, and the Agua Prieta garrison, weakened both in men and artillery by Rodriguez's tactics, were on the alert tonight for an attack at any time.

The Carranza troops cut off by Rodriguez had four pieces of artillery, one of them a gun mounted on an armored car, and a number of machine guns. They were sent southward Sunday with two military trains, and against the Villa command south of Nacozari.

SUES BELMONT FOR A DIVORCE.

FORMER CHORUS GIRL ACCUSES SON OF MILLIONAIRE OF MISCONDUCT.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Ethel Loraine Belmont, the ex-chorus girl who got a separation decree with $700 a month alimony two years ago from Raymond Belmont, son of the millionaire, today started suit against him today for a divorce. The papers were served on the defendant at the Hotel Belmont today. While the complaint merely accuses Belmont of misconduct with a woman unknown to the plaintiff between August 1, 1914, and May 1, 1915, her attorneys said today that they will furnish a bill of particulars on demand. Mrs. Belmont will now apply for alimony and counsel fees pending the divorce trial.

WHAT RANDALL WANTS TO DO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—The first representative in Congress to be elected on the Prohibition platform was in Chicago today en route to Washington. He is Congressman Charles H. Randall of Los Angeles, Cal. Here are some of the things that Mr. Randall wants to do by national legislation: Prohibit interstate shipment of liquor. Prohibit the use of the mails for liquor advertising. Prohibit the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia and in all territories.

OUR WAR SHIPS.

A cargo of quebracho consigned to New York for shipment to Stamford, Ct. The Trans-Atlantic Company, fearing to allow the ship to run the chance of seizure by British cruisers, which are lying off the harbor, asked the State Department to get assurances from the British government that she would not be seized. The department queried the Foreign Office and was advised that the British government could give no assurances concerning the Winnebago. It is sorely in need by leather dealers, who use the refined product for tanning purposes.

QUITE A CITY IS NEW YAWK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A police census of the city just completed shows that the greater city has 5,252,588 inhabitants in its five boroughs. The State census completed last July gave the total population as 5,039,112, but dissatisfaction was felt with this count, and at the instance of the health department the police compiled a new census.

GERMAN VIEW OF GREEK INVASION.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]
BERLIN, Nov. 30 (via Sayville, N. Y.).—The position taken by the Entente allies, as reflected in the semi-official statement issued in Paris to the effect that the landing of troops at Saloniki was not a violation of Greek territory, is contradicted by the Overseas News Agency.

IN FIVE MINUTES
NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest and surest Stomach relief.
If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of distension, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation. This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

WILD WEST SHOW

FOR THE CARNIVAL.

The management of the Los Angeles Prosperity Indoor Carnival has secured Weiga's great Wild West show as a premier attraction for their big show, which opens the 11th inst. in the old Boston Store Building. The feature act with the Wild West show is Princess Winona, who is claimed to be the greatest rifle shot of the world, shooting from every conceivable angle. She has with her a company of four expert rifle shots and ropers. They carry several horses and perform remarkable feats with the ropes both on the ground and while traveling at full speed on the horses.

This is the act which created a sensation as a feature of the 101 show on the coast in San Francisco.

The act has also shown successfully on vaudeville circuits in this country and Europe.

The queen contest goes merrily on, and Manager Hart, who has that branch of the carnival in charge, requests that those who desire to enter see him at once at the carnival headquarters, No. 239 South Broadway, so that all the contestants may enter on practically equal terms.

BY WAY OF EMPHASIS.

She who shops this pleasant day will end her worries right away, escaping crowds and hurry-burly, joyous play—this shopping early.

Which is another way of saying: Choose from full stocks, from pleasant sales people, and in uncrowded aisles.

And right now is the time to make out your Christmas lists. Use the advertising in The Times as a guide. Decide on what you want.

Go direct to the stores and get it.

SAFE AND SANE DEFENSE PLANS.

Move to Form Local Branch of Security League.

Keynote Sensible Measures for Preparedness.

Stronger Navy, an Effective
Army and Reserve.

"Safe, sane and sensible measures for the defense of the United States" is the keynote of the movement carried forward by the National Security League. Preliminary steps were taken last night to organize the Los Angeles branch.

The meeting was held in the Council Chamber, Mayor Sebastian called the gathering to order and declared the subject one in which every patriotic citizen should be interested. Gen. Johnstone Jones was named temporary chairman and Dr. Somers temporary secretary.

Gen. Jones reviewed the aims and purposes of the league, declaring that it proposes to call public attention to the present state of unpreparedness and to advocate a definite policy of national defense, and to create a public sentiment that will sustain the plans of defense as they may be worked out by the general staff of the army and the general board of the navy—and to co-operate in insisting that Congress pass laws to these ends and make the necessary provisions for the defense of this country.

He stated that local organizations of considerable strength have already been formed in San Francisco, Berkeley and Sacramento, and that it is proposed to have similar ones in every city of any size in the United States.

This was followed by short patriotic addresses by Maj. Judson, who was an officer in the Confederate army; Capt. John E. Curtis, who said that from Monterey to San Diego the Pacific Coast has no defense but that of police officers and the National Guard; Capt. H. W. Osborne, Austin C. Shaffer, W. J. Bryant and others.

A committee composed of James McKnight, Austin Shaffer and Capt. Osborne presented resolutions, which were adopted, and which request that the Mayor and City Council urge the observance of "Defense Day" next Monday, and that flags be displayed on residences, business houses and all public buildings of this city.

The resolutions provide that the local branch shall be known as the Los Angeles Branch of the National Security League, and that there shall be an Executive Committee of twenty-five members, to be announced by the chairman at the next meeting. The purpose of the organization is to work for the following program: Legislation correcting present inefficient methods of military appropriations and disbursement.

The adoption of a definite military policy.

A stronger, better balanced navy. An effective mobile army.

An adequate national guard, organized under the War Department.

The creation of an organized reserve for each branch of our military service.

The next meeting was announced for next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Council Chamber, City Hall.

FOR SAFETY FIRST.

Railroad Efficiency Expert Given New Position on Salt Lake and on Special Investigating Committee.

Howard Elliott was named to the newly-elected position of inspector of transportation of the Salt Lake Railroad yesterday by General Manager Nutt. Nearly a month ago, Mr. Elliott received word that he had been named as one of the seven members of the American Railway Association's special committee on the investigation of accidents at grade crossings.

Mr. Elliott has been in the employ of the Salt Lake in various capacities for five years past. He has a portion of this time as secretary of the road's central safety and efficiency bureau. He will continue to exercise the duties of that position, in addition to devoting his time, as inspector of transportation, to matters concerning loss and damage claims.

Under the chairmanship of James A. McCrea, general manager of the Long Island Railroad, the special committee on the prevention of accidents at grade crossings will make a detailed survey of the causes, with the object of outlining measures, either legislative or otherwise, which will reduce their number. Mr. Elliott will represent the southwestern railroads on this committee.

In addition to noteworthy work as secretary of the central safety and efficiency bureau, Mr. Elliott has made himself known in the railroad work by a series of widely-circulated articles on "safety first" and kindred subjects.

VALLEY DISTRIBUTING SYSTEM FOR WATER.

THE Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution requesting the Board of Supervisors to adhere to the original plan of having the water distributing system in the San Fernando Valley district built by Chief Engineer Mulholland and his staff under the supervision of the Board of Public Service Commissioners. It was stated the action was taken to forestall a move on the part of several individuals who desire to organize an engineering corps and have the contract for the work awarded through a system of competitive bidding.

The resolution, a copy of which will be delivered to the Board of Supervisors today, states the original plans and specifications for the installation of the distributing system were prepared by Engineer Mulholland and his staff without cost to the district, which is known as Los Angeles county waterworks district No. 2, but were made at considerable cost to the water department.

It states that if an engineering corps is organized to prepare new plans the attendant cost must be borne by the district and will come out of the appropriation for the construction of the system.

The attention of the Board of Supervisors is called to the fact that the estimate of Engineer Mulholland, upon which the $2,600,000 bond issue for the construction of the work was time when Los Angeles and Southern California stood in need of everything that it took big money to buy—light, urban and interurban railroads, telephones and power.

Mr. Ballard went on to say that there is a big chapter of unwritten history regarding the men who came here in these times of stress to pioneer the way of electrical development.

"Of these men," said Mr. Ballard, "Huntington brought the largest amount of money to Southern California. Next in order was John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company. They, with others, built up an electrical city, surrounded by other electrical cities. They made Los Angeles and Southern California what it is."

Referring to his predictions in 1895 of the electrical development that would come to California as the commercial center of today, Mr. Mitchell pointed out, with the emphatic aid of a picture, that utilitarian things can be made beautiful.

"Here we have," he said, referring to the picture, "a power generating station in the mountains that is more beautiful than any public building that we have in Los Angeles. It shows that you men of science and commerce put beauty into utility. I only wish that you had the direction of some of our art undertakings and would handle them in your proven spirit of science and commercialism."

GAY GATHERING.

Six hundred employees and friends of the Pacific Light and Power Corporation gathered in the Golden-Bosley Hall last night for a ball, held in honor of the nation-wide electrical development campaign. It was entirely a Pacific Light and Power affair.

The entire entertainment was not only arranged, but provided as well, by the employees of the big corporation. Beginning with the orchestra, all members of which are employees, through the selections rendered by the P. L. and P. O. Club to the violin solo and obligato rendered by Beran there was not a number on the program that was not rendered by Pacific Light and Power people.

Particularly pleasing were the solos by L. J. Vaudett, Homer J. Sampson and Grover T. Vail.

Arrangements had been made by the committee in charge, composed of H. J. Eichhorn, A. E. Erickson and M. J. Taylor, to bring together the P. L. and P. O. people from all over the system. Parties came from all the cities in Southern California served by the company, and representatives of the force in the mountain divisions where the power is generated.

The Reception and Floor Committee, which was in charge of the affair, was composed of H. R. Bowie, H. H. Cox, Jean Reier, General Manager E. R. Davis, W. J. Gracey, J. C. Hunter, Grace H. Hunter, J. A. Joyce, A. N. Kemp, E. P. Miller, D. Morgan, A. Munger, E. D. Nelson, C. R. Schiller, C. C. Starr, W. L. Steele, S. Van Dreeser, Mrs. S. Van Dreeser, C. W. Ward, D. H. Willard and Arma Wilson.

UPHOLDS COUNTY CEMENT MAKING.

JUDGE RULES MANUFACTURE IS LEGAL—CASE TO GO TO HIGHEST COURT.

The City of Los Angeles suit against County Auditor Lewis to compel him to issue the demand for the first month's rent covering the lease of the Monolith cement plant to the county, closed yesterday, so far as the Superior Courts are concerned, with a victory for the city. Judge McCormick, who heard argument on Mr. Lewis' demurrer to the suit for a writ of mandate, held against the demurrer, which was based on the constitutionality of the statute and questioned the interpretation which gave the county the right to operate the cement plant and sell the product.

The court held that the provision was constitutional. If the county had the power to operate a plant, it would be an improper construction of the law to say that the surplus remaining after the county's needs for road and bridge building had been supplied, should be thrown away. Naturally this surplus must be sold, he said.

The court stated that the principle is highly important and that this surplus is more important every day. This arises from the control of prices and products.

"I can see no lawful objection to the county engaging in the manufacture of cement because, in doing so, it is a valid exercise of the police power."

An appeal will be taken to the State Supreme Court and from there to the United States Supreme Court. It is understood, however, that the question fully and finally settled whether the county can engage in the manufacture and sale of cement in the market in competition with private concerns. This contention was raised during the argument.

HOLLAND AND THE WORLD.

"What Holland has done for the World" will be the subject of a free informal lecture by Rev. E. Stanton Hodgkin at the First Unitarian Church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Books for Children.

Public Library will hold Exhibit to Offer Suggestions as to Good Christmas Gifts.

Beginning this week and continuing for three weeks the children's department of the public library at Fifth and Broadway will hold an exhibit of children's books suitable for Christmas gifts so that mothers and fathers, fond aunts and perplexed uncles may look over the most attractive editions of the children's favorites and, if they wish, consult with the children's librarians as to the best of the new books.

All this is arranged to accord with a similar effort of the Boy Scouts of America to have November 24, to the 4th inst., observed throughout the United States as "Safety First Juvenile Book Week."

It is a concerted effort of those interested in young people and better books for young people to direct the attention of those buying to thoughtfully consider a book really worth while.

Lists giving descriptive notes of the best books for boys and girls have been prepared for distribution. During the month smaller exhibits will be held at the Arroyo Seco, Hollywood, Vermont Square, Vernon avenue, Boyle Heights, Moneta, University and San Pedro branch libraries.

Talks on "Better Books for Boys and Girls" will be given at the Hollywood Woman's Club, Chabucana, Belden Intermediate, Ramona, Rowan and Washington Park P.T.A.'s, and the Story Teller's League.

Russell H. Ballard and the Jovian babies.

Mr. Ballard, who is secretary and assistant general manager of the Southern California Edison Company, addressed the Ad Club's gathering in celebration of Electrical Prosperity Week yesterday. At the right are Louis (top) and Annabelle, the famous Jovian Electrical League babies, who will be the feature of the programme in The Times Assembly-rooms at noon today.

schedule yesterday and, although traffic was light, several hundred persons made the trip, including property owners and sightseers, who visited the scene of the fire.

"I do not know just what we shall do regarding immediate plans," Mr. Banning said last night. "Ample accommodations were provided today in the section of the town not affected for those who lost their homes and property in the fire zone."

"The water and food supply was normal and everything was done to relieve the suffering of those who were made homeless. No casualties were reported and the residents seemed determined to use their efforts to improve conditions by clearing away the debris and taking every precaution to guard against another outbreak of the fire from the smoldering ruins."

"The steamer Hermosa will make regular trips between the harbor and Catalina Island, in accordance with the contract for carrying government mails."

"I know of no definite plans by official or civic bodies for rebuilding the town. To my knowledge no programme was discussed today, and I do not know of any proposed meetings for the discussion of the subject."

When asked about the rumors circulating yesterday about plans for a larger hotel at the lighthouse, Mr. Banning said: "There is nothing spontaneous about such a plan. We have had the idea in mind for some time. If business had made it necessary we probably would have built a hotel on the lighthouse. It all depends upon the exigencies of the situation. Whether anything shall be done in this direction."

THINKS IT DEED OF INCENDIARY.

MINISTER DESCRIBES FUTURE FIGHT AGAINST RUSH OF FLAMES.

"I feel certain the fire was of incendiary origin," Rev. Harry Wilson, rector of the St. John's Church, Avondale, declared yesterday. "Nevertheless I cannot understand the motives of the persons responsible for such a crime."

"All my property was destroyed despite the efforts Mrs. Wilson and I made to save some of our household goods and valuable records and files of the church," he said.

"It is obvious the great damage could have been minimized if Avondale had had better fire protection. The fire-fighting equipment was very poor and as a result, the town burned rapidly. Those of us who were able to combat the flames did the best we could under the circumstances, but we soon realized our efforts to check the conflagration were almost futile."

"Mrs. Wilson and I will stay at the Hayward Hotel in this city for a few days until we can decide definitely upon our plans for the future. I am not sure where I shall undertake to rebuild St. John's Church, which was completely destroyed."

Before taking up his church work in Avondale, Rev. Mr. Wilson had traveled extensively to many parts of the world. Many interesting and valuable relics collected by him in foreign countries were lost in the fire yesterday.

Improving Market.

While the individual operators are suffering hardships of a very serious nature as a result of the withdrawal of the fact that these had interfered with considerable production in helping the industry at large. The market for oil at present is strong, not only in regard to the heavy product, but also as pertains to light oil. Gasoline has now advanced 4 cents per gallon since the beginning of the recent rise, and this upward movement, and subsequent advances likely to follow, will help further strengthen the temper of the market for light oil in the fields.

A NOTABLE DEPARTURE.

Los Angeles Firm Scores Hit by Adopting Advanced System.

Los Angeles has earned a most enviable reputation throughout the country as being first in everything that helps to make life desirable. In the line of progressive spirit, which insists that Southern Californians shall have nothing but the best, a most vital innovation has been introduced by the W. H. Sutch Company, funeral directors, No. 324 South Figueroa street.

While Mr. Sutch is the pioneer undertaker of Los Angeles, having been in the business here since 1882, the W. H. Sutch Company has just recently been organized. Mr. Sutch is president and treasurer, Mr. L. W. Weatherwax, known to all of his hosts of friends as "Waxie," is secretary and Willard Anthony, vice-president.

Mr. Weatherwax has been connected with Breesee Bros. for years, and Mr. Anthony was with the Weatherwax firm of Chicago for a long time, also with two of the leading firms of Springfield, Ill., for several years.

The new company has inaugurated an entirely novel system, which is strictly a product of modern methods and organized efficiency. Mr. Sutch is the keynote of the new administration. It is not only the material, the labor, the transportation, that makes the office of the funeral director valuable and indispensable.

It is that deep and touching note of personal sympathy, that gift of tender solicitude and loving care, which enters into the family circle and soothes the grief-stricken mourner, lightening their sorrow and lifting the burden of their grief.

Not only are the three principal members of the W. H. Sutch Company thoroughly competent and experienced in every branch of the profession, but they now give to customers a definite and tangible service without any additional charge whatever.

Mr. Anthony is a gifted vocalist, and a quartette especially trained to assist at funerals. The services of this quartette are absolutely free to all patrons.

The services of a chaplain are also provided free of charge when desired, and a limousine owned and operated by the company is at the service of members of the family on trips between the home and the parlors, or for any other errands in connection with the obsequies, in addition to the service proper.

But perhaps the most revolutionary feature of this new system is the fact that the prices of all caskets are fixed and unchangeable, being marked in plain figures upon all the company's stock. The price of the casket includes all the cost of the entire funeral, care of the body, conducting the funeral, music by the quartette, transportation and services at the cemetery. There is absolutely no extra charge whatever.

Furthermore, the family in modest circumstances, who buy a $60 casket, receives the same care and attention as the one who purchases a $1500 receptacle for the remains of the departed. Full automobile equipment is at the disposal of all alike, as well as all the other facilities of this thoroughly equipped and experienced firm.

To assuage the sorrows of the stricken is the life study and aim of the men composing this company. To place all funeral arrangements in their hands is like entrusting these sad offices to a member of the family, for by their new system and complete organization, they relieve the afflicted of all care and responsibility and brighten what is regarded as one of life's darkest experiences.—(Advertisement.)

INNOVATION ANNOUNCED FOR
MT. HOLLYWOOD CHURCH.

Character Readings from Literature with Moral and Religious Lessons and Choir and Orchestral Programmes will be Sunday Evening Features as an Experiment.

Dramatic presentation of literature with moral and religious lessons is to take the place of the regular Sunday-evening services hereafter in the Mt. Hollywood Congregational Church. This innovation is to be made by the pastor, Rev. Clyde Shepard, at the request of members of his congregation.

Hereafter there will be no sermon for the people who go to this church Sunday evenings—at least not the formal kind of sermon that is usually heard in churches. If they can draw a sermon from the dramatic presentations, then the pastor believes he will have accomplished much good.

At the beginning there will be no scenery or special costumes—although this may come later if it appears to be required. The plane room will be used, and the pastor will impersonate various characters. At times he will be assisted by his wife, who also is a dramatic reader, both of them having filled engagements on the Chautauque circuits and concert stages.

The first of these Sunday-evening affairs will occur next Sunday night, when Mr. Shepard will present the first half of "The Sky Pilot," which leads up to a natural climax. The latter half will be presented the following Sunday evening.

In connection with these dramatic presentations there is to be a musical programme given by a children's choir and orchestra.

In discussing this change of services yesterday Mr. Shepard said:

In any service, and especially in the Sunday-evening service, the message is the thing. The vehicle which is used to convey the message is not so important provided it carries the point home and registers its effect on the minds and lives of the hearers. Of course, there is also the provision that the vehicle should not contain anything which would be derogatory to the message or to the character of the service. But the literature and the drama of today are so full of good things honestly presented that there is no dearth of messages in dramatic form.

In many circles the question has arisen whether or not the waste of energy and duplication of effort to have two services of the same nature on the same day as ordinarily the churches do. It is to avoid this duplication, and to open up new avenues to the hearts of the audience, that this new service is introduced at the request of the congregation.

I am not doubtful of the ability of the message of a Sunday-evening service to go home when presented in dramatic form. Not long ago when I presented a dramatic reading in another church, a young man came to me after the service and said he had received more good from it than from any sermon he had ever heard—and he had heard lots of them.

MERRY THRILLS AT HAMBURGER'S.

SANTA SAILS OVER FROSTY HEIGHTS AND SCATTERS THE CHRISTMAS JOY.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

As long as Christmas exists—and let us hope that will be "forever"—Santa Claus with a cherry nose and a great pack of generous gifts, and driving merry-madly his multiple spans of reindeer over frosty heights, will best express our notions of this glad time. Aero-craft and automobiles may come and go, and many may adopt them, but somehow, they never seem quite the vehicles for this Saint Nick.

This is why, when you enter the big white store—yes, Hamburger's—you have that Christmas thrill, which is hood's happiness for directly before you, and yet high in the air, as though not yet quite brought down to the present time, but removed about say—three weeks or so—of the merriest and bluest Santa Claus driving his pronged steeds pell-mell through the air, which you feel certain must be frosty because it gives the whole winter holiday feeling just to look at that hurrying sleigh, whose bells you imagine you hear ringing. Those white reindeer—aren't they the fabled, ghostly ones—trotting from the great frozen North? Who save Santa, frost-smooth, could guide them over the track? Waste of atmosphere? And who save Santa would ever have thought to fill a sleigh with just the very things so beloved of children? Ahead, and not so very safely far ahead—in a huge snow-ball—a high ball, perhaps so high in the air it is upheld by a magical toy-like fount of spouting whiteness as in tropical climes the golden ball in the fountain of the upholders of the fountain's spray. Will Santa's madly-dashing sleigh run amuck of this impediment and scatter all the gifts? What a possible calamity! And yet, if it is to occur—just if it is, we'd better be in reach when all those gifts descend to earth! What better way to make certain of the doll for Beth, the skates for Bert, the macaroni set, which Willie has long wished for, and the doll perambulator so coveted by Louise?

Well, even if the reindeer craft escape collision, there is all upstairs to draw from. That great upstairs where toys grow so luxuriantly and where, if you whisper it to the brownies, stationed in a corner by the little log cabin, your innermost Christmas wish will reach the ear of Santa Claus. If you stay there long enough, 'tis said, and listen hard enough, you will hear the clatter of the reindeer hoofs upon the roof and there will come down from the wide-mouthed chimney such a rumbling and tumbling of wished-for things that you will believe that all the winds of heaven have turned messengers from fairy land, to bring to little people everything their thoughts can put in words. All through this big store there is that wondrous Christmas smell—evergreen, it is, of course, but it seems something more than that—as though gifts actually had an aroma, of their own—and possibly they have!

grocery store, No. 1239 Lemon street, after they discovered Detective James Bean overhearing their council in the former meeting place.

The blackhand element is considered in a ferment at the present time because of the recent arrival from New Orleans of two important Italians, who are agitators of known accomplishment, and men with most dangerous characters. They had been visitors at Finocchio's store, and had been with Finocchio of late. So it is probable the grocer was agitated to particular violence against authority. He had sold the gasoline to the numerous Italians recently charged with arson, and had been threatened with prosecution. Naturally he was bitter towards the police.

He had also had trouble with other families in the vicinity, and was constantly on the alert for offense from them.

So when he met up with Detectives Browning and Bowe, he shot with deadly effect. As he stumbled from the fatal wound, Browning shot twice. The bullet was found yesterday afternoon, lodged against a lower rib in Finocchio's right side. It was the bullet from Browning's gun. Finocchio is in great pain from his injury. He talks hysterical English, and it is with difficulty he makes himself understood. He denies any complicity with Mrs. Lola O'Donnell, the Spanish woman with whom he was friendly, and in whose home a quantity of "blackhand" letters and bombs was found.

She is an unusual character as Finocchio, Italian and Spanish, who has bleached her hair until it is a streaked and dappled red. The dye has discolored parts of her face until she presents a grotesque appearance. She has hard brown eyes with green glints, and a quick, snapping manner, that is expressed one moment with most violent vituperations, and the next with religious supplications. She is a seamstress, 35 years old, and has never been in trouble before. No new evidence against her developed yesterday.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

Coroner Hartwell will hold an inquest over the murdered detective this afternoon in Sutch's undertaking rooms. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Full departmental honors will mark it. At Inglewood cemetery, Missah Lodge No. 378, of the Masonic Order, will take charge of the remains. Rev. Baker P. Lee will speak the eulogy. All friends who attend were requested yesterday to take their autos if possible.

It is doubtful that Mrs. Browning, widow of the slain detective, will be able to attend. For weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Browning, who had been married many years, had been planning on the advent of a third member of the family.

Ralph Bowe, who worked in the department with Browning, was present yesterday by the tragedy. His wife is seriously ill in Sierra Madre from pulmonary affliction, and Mr. Bowe recently recovered from a serious operation.

Detective Browning had always sheltered Bowe in their work, being himself one of the most rugged and enduring men in the department, while Bowe is slender but very quick and efficient. They were considered an ideal "team" of detectives.

Chief Snively paid the martyred officer a high compliment in the Police Bulletin issued last night.

NEIGHBORHOOD QUARREL.
Adams & Bender, attorneys for Finocchio, yesterday stated they are very certain there was no "Black Hand" element in the shooting of Detective Browning and the bullets that led up to it, but that it was the outcome of a neighborhood quarrel, in which Antonio Biondino and Finocchio were the principals.

They stated that the trouble between these two men dated back several months, and had been constantly augmented since its beginning by various acts of the principals or their neighbors, many of whom had taken sides in the matter.

Last June Biondino brought suit for divorce against his wife, Vincenza. Adams & Bender were attorneys for Finocchio. When the case came to trial, Biondino did not appear in court, and upon a cross-complaint Mrs. Biondino was granted a decree.

After this case, say the attorneys,

there was constant trouble between these two men.

A few days ago Finocchio visited the attorneys and gave instructions to begin a suit for the recovery from a certain woman that he alleged was unlawfully withholding money that belonged to him. In order to discuss matters pertaining to this case, said Mr. Bender, he visited the home of Finocchio yesterday afternoon, and at that time was seen by Biondino and others who were sitting on their porch. It is his presumption that his visit incited Biondino to telephone to the police, as he believes that Biondino imagined that Finocchio was preparing to take some action against him.

The attorneys visited Finocchio at the County Hospital yesterday afternoon and state that the man declared he believed he was about to be attacked by his enemies when he fired the shot.

The Police Commission yesterday adopted resolutions of condolence over the death of Detective Sergeant Browning. The commission asked the Council to appropriate $175 to pay the funeral expenses of the officer.

TO PUNISH NASTINESS.

Government Will Spend Large Sum to Prove Case Based on Writing of an Obscene Letter.

Another argument in favor of the proposition that the government does not stop at expenses when a principle is to be demonstrated, will be shown this morning in the trial of Frederick M. Smith, manager of an apartment-house on Grand avenue, before Judge Trippe for sending an obscene letter through the mail. The writing complained of is about

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.
CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) Orders for 200,000,000 pounds of refined copper at 20 cents a pound have been placed in this country by German agents, the metal to be stored until the war is over. Extraneous supply is manifest in speculative circles, attributed to a desire on the part of financiers to await the forthcoming message of Congress. One eastern railroad showed an increase in net earnings of $2,253,000 for October.
 (For details, see financial pages.)

TRUST HIM NOT.
 It is to be hoped that daylight robbery is not going to be popular in Los Angeles. In the meantime, it might be as well for visitors not to get too familiar with affable strangers at or near the passenger depots.

CHURCH IS SAVED.
 It seems providential that the pretty Catholic Church at Avalon was spared from the flames. Hardly had it been built originally when it was destroyed by fire, and a second blow of this kind would have visited a heavy affliction upon its courageous little congregation.

SOMETHING NEW.
 A burglar with a penchant for books was caught in a South Broadway store trying to get away with one hundred late novels. His method is new. All of us are perfectly familiar with the thief who only borrows two or three of our choicest volumes and never returns them.

SHORTER SERMONS.
 A certain local pastor has received a petition from his congregation to preach shorter sermons. In accordance to their request, he said that an underdone sermon was doubtless better than an over-done dinner.

HE IS OWN MEDICINE.
 A man at Phoenix has been arrested for selling hard cider. There might be some sympathy for him were it not for the fact that he was one of the leaders in the campaign which resulted in turning his State dry. If he wanted that kind of law it is eminently fitting that he should suffer for its violation.

HERE TO PLAY.
 Los Angeles has entertained many big men in the past month, but we will venture to say not one of the number has a clearer grasp of American methods and finance, or a larger share in their operation, than Frank S. Mattin, the president of the street-car system of Philadelphia and a director and large owner in the Buffalo street-car system. Mr. Mattin knows where to take a vacation.

GENUINE STAR STUFF.
 Beautiful and talented little Leonore Ulrich is in the city. It is to be hoped that before she returns to New York and a big play that is waiting for her there in February, Mr. Morosco will allow his rare little star to regale us all with one of her fine creations at the Burbank. She is one of the few competent actresses who, despite the fact that she has made one picture, intends to stick to the spoken drama.

PERMANENT CURE.
 Long Beach officials have done well to order the destruction of a grove of trees which are blamed for the death of two men in an auto accident at a grade crossing; but no one in Los Angeles county must forget that the abolition of these crossings is the final and only cure. Such a step has been ordered, but the companies have ten years in which to bring the change about. It is to be hoped that they will not wait until ten days of the expiration of their time and then start another ten years' fight in the courts to make delays.

ARE MORALS NATIONAL?
 Local producers of motion pictures suggest the elimination of a board of censors and the appointment instead of a single film commissioner who will see to it that the regulations of the National Board of Censors are enforced locally. This may be an excellent plan, if for no other reason than that film morals are really not a local question. The morals of Michigan are not different from those of Massachusetts, and those of New York are no finer and no worse than those of California in so far as standardization and idealism are concerned. The national standard should be high enough to satisfy every community, providing it is always made effective.

A SYSTEM OF PEACE.
 A Men have a choice of governing themselves or of being governed, and this rule goes so far that they must either be ruled or confined. One of the interesting phases of life is to notice those who voluntarily retire to asylums of rest. This is not sick-mindedness but only a period of reflection. All people do not wait for death to remove them to a certain extent from that clash of motives that is called business and that conflict of wills which is motive power of professional action. A large percentage of the delightful homes at Pasadena, Avalon, San Marino, and even in Los Angeles, belong to people who have done their share of the world's work, have had their share of experience and its accented results and are now enjoying the little rest between the spells of living that make eternity.

ANOTHER POLICEMAN MURDERED.

The Los Angeles police seem to have good reasons for believing that a Sicilian camorra was brought to bay through the murder of Detective Sergeant Browning Monday night by Caligero Finnochio. The officer was killed in the discharge of duty—that of arresting a suspicious character whose readiness to murder showed how completely justified were both the suspicions and actions of the police.

For months Italians in Los Angeles have been terrified by sinister letters signed by the cryptic and ominous "Black Hand." That even some of these letters have been shown to the police, when so solemnly veiled is the threat they carry to prevent disclosure, and when the camorra is swift and relentless in striking at its victims, is reasonable assurance that there have been more such letters than those timidly, fearfully, brought to police attention.

Mysterious explosions and unexplained incendiary fires have intermittently wrought damage in the Italian district, which the camorra would naturally select for its operations.

Finnochio denies complicity in any such organization; but to confess would likely get himself assassinated by the camorra if he escaped the noose to which the law will normally assign him for the wanton, unprovoked murder of Sergeant Browning.

Finnochio's friends have already brought forward a specious defense representing that he was involved in a feud with a neighbor, went armed to protect himself, and shot through fear that the officer was an enemy.

Whether or not the murderer is allied with a nefarious secret organization has but slight bearing on the crime. Los Angeles cannot afford to sacrifice courageous police officers through the nervousness of men who are not at peace with their neighbors.

But a few weeks ago another sergeant was murdered by a crook who "mistook" the officer for a "burglar." That cowardly scoundrel didn't "intend" to kill Sergeant Tooleen.

Pelphs desperate Finnochio didn't "intend" to kill Sergeant Browning, but it is certain that he did not carry a sawed-off shotgun as a watch charm, and that he used it on a police officer instead of on a neighbor in no way mitigates the crime.

GOOD ROADS AND PREPAREDNESS.

One of the lessons taught by the war in Europe is the vital importance of a comprehensive good roads system in any national scheme of defense from military aggression. It is one of the many valuable lessons, in fact, which must not be overlooked by the United States if it would make the military preparedness of which so much is heard these days really effective.

Its wonderful network of hard-paved highways may with positiveness be said to have saved France from annihilation at the time the mighty Teutonic wave was surging onward toward Paris immediately following the swift opening of hostilities. The story of the army in taxicabs that poured out of Paris to smash the far-flung tip of the invading host will live as long as history itself. Less spectacular, but of much greater effectiveness in the turning of the German rush, if we may believe the accounts of later days, was the stand of the French center in the same titanic battle, a stand made possible solely by the ability of the republic's commanders to bury men and munitions over strategic roads to the points endangered.

Germany's carefully-planned system of rail and highway communication, the most nearly perfect for military purposes ever devised, has enabled her to strike with equal power and facility on every frontier. If the time ever comes when the fighting is forced into German territory the allies will discover that these same strategic lanes of travel and transportation are one of the Teuton's main reliances for defense. One of the reasons for Russia's initial failure was the incomplete provision she had made in these respects.

There is military argument enough for an all-embracing national good roads system in the United States, even were no other argument available. The military argument, however, is only one of the compelling reasons why this construction of such a highway system should be given immediate and earnest thought. The various countries of Europe have from the first had a double purpose in building the splendid roads that are now in the hands of their military chieftains. The course of practically every highway created in Germany and France had been dictated by an economic as well as a military consideration and policy. Nearly every mile of paved roadway built has constituted an actual investment for the upbuilding of the farming or industrial interests of the communities through which it passes and has served its ends in the transportation of the products of peace to and from market and distributing points. Every one of the so-called military highways is, therefore, an all-year-around asset to the country in which it is laid out. The governments of Europe have constructed such highways outright or have subsidized their building not only in anticipation of the fearful day that has now come, but with the deliberate view to fostering and upbuilding the economic life of their respective peoples.

The application of the European policy of highway construction and maintenance to American requirements, both military and economic, must be apparent to anyone upon a little consideration. Ocean-to-ocean highways have come in for considerable discussion during the past few years and enough interest has been aroused in various parts of the country to make it practically certain that the many missing links in the chain of good roads that now stretches in a more or less continuous line across the continent will some time be supplied. In the new and intelligent conception of national preparedness which has been loosed into the public mind in the past year or more, however, there is no place for delay or chance, there can be no waiting for any community to make up its mind. If a national good roads scheme is to secure in the impending programme for military preparedness in this country it must be taken up by the government itself and not left to the various communities that are now struggling to put it through. So far as that is concerned, it is not a question merely of the construction of one transcontinental highway, or of any highway, but of a series of paved roads, the location and routes of which must be determined primarily by a board of military experts unswayed by local or political interests of any kind. It follows as a fact beyond dispute that almost every mile of roadway that would fit into a military plan for the expeditious movement of troops and munitions would serve an economic purpose as well. All the knowledge needed as a working basis is, therefore, available.

The necessarily complicated details associated with the actual carrying out of any national highway programme that might be worked out by the military authorities would, of course, require the most expert and careful study. Granted a degree of freedom from interference from the outside, the army men are capable of planning their part of the programme. It would be for them to say where the roads should go. The provision of funds by the government directly, or by apportionment among the several States on some basis indicated by the relative economic benefits received; plans for the co-operation of Federal and State highway departments—these and other phases in the scheme would come under the classification of details within the scope of the general policy and to be studied in relation to it. The main thing, if the nation is to take cognizance of the particular lesson in preparedness which has to do with strategic highways, is to get the plan started. Here is a serious subject for the advocates of preparedness to begin thinking about. The logic and reality of the plan, both as a military precaution and an economic undertaking, should command the active interest of all thinking patriotic citizens.

EUROPEAN PENSIONS.
 We are staggered at the almost-incomprehensible figures that make up the daily additions to the mountainous war debt of Europe. As it is, we wonder how many of the chief combatants, even supposing the war ended this winter, will be able to meet their obligations or in less than two or three generations lessen the burden placed upon the shoulders of children yet unborn.

While we attempt to count up the losses, while statisticians compute the financial tasks that will follow the readjustments of peace, one item is still left out of their calculations: an additional specter is yet to appear over the depleted treasure chests of England, Germany and France. The pensions for widows and children of men killed in action, the pecuniary relief for the greater number of maimed and crippled and permanently disabled will project the war budget into the future for another half-century after the armies are disbanded, even if universal arbitration becomes a feature of the new civilization.

We know to what length the pension list grew at the conclusion of the own Civil War, so that even today we are still paying for injuries inflicted fifty years ago. Possibly the largest item of expense for the Spanish-American War will be found under the same heading. Then stop to think of the millions killed and the more millions rendered helpless in the greatest of all world wars, and try to estimate what it will cost to compensate this vast army put out of commission in the service of their country—not only the widows and families left unprotected for, but the maimed and blind and insane and disfigured for whom the able-bodied and unfurnished through additional taxation will have to provide home and food and common comforts.

It is improbable that any government in Europe could, if it would, provide for the victims of the great war as generously as the United States has taken care of the veterans of our own disbanded armies. They will not have the resources at the end of their war for a long time to come

FINANCING NATIONAL DEFENSE.

BY FREDERICK L. HUIDEKOPER,
 Founder the Army League of the United States; Author of "Military Studies" and Other Critical Works; Author of "The Military Unpreparedness of the United States."

IN A LETTER to a constituent written by Claude Kitchin, a Representative from North Carolina, the leader of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives, he is quoted as having criticized the enormity of the President's naval plan in so far as this proposed programme "increases our naval appropriation more than the total increase for the last fourteen years; more than the increase by Germany in the five years preceding the European war and the combined increase of all the nations of the world for the five years preceding the European war, and more than the combined increase of all the nations in the world for the whole period of ten years immediately preceding the European war."

To begin with, there is reason to doubt the accuracy of Mr. Kitchin's figures, especially if the British naval increase is taken into consideration. But even so, what does it mean? It means that the recommendations of qualified officers who have spent their lives studying the requirements have been constantly ignored by Congress, with the result that our navy has not the fighting efficiency it ought to possess commensurate with the money expended. This is due to the fact that it is not well balanced, and no unbalanced force ever attains the maximum of efficiency.

Similar criticism might be applied with respect to the administration's plan for the reorganization of the land forces. Neither the President nor Mr. Garrison has made public the method by which they propose to raise the money necessary for the increase in the Regular Army, for the contemplated Continental Army, and for the augmented appropriations for the Organized Militia.

This naturally brings up the question of military finance, and once again is made manifest the wasteful policy which the United States has invariably pursued in dealing with its armed forces. Owing to faulty and piecemeal legislation, the American army is today the most absurdly administered army in the world. This is partly due to its being dispersed all over the country in posts the bulk of which are wholly useless from a military, or as a matter of fact any standpoint, except the political. And every time it is suggested to abolish any of these worthless posts, such a howl goes up from the community in which it is located and to which it affords a source of revenue that such political pressure is brought to bear that the War Department is left no alternative except to perpetuate a most vicious system. Largely in consequence of these abuses the American soldier costs his government over one thousand dollars a year, whereas the maintenance of the European soldier rarely exceeds $250 per annum.

What is the solution? The pertinent question can only be answered in the light of the experience of other nations. There are two methods of obtaining large armies. One is by voluntary enlistment—a system under which the government must go before the country as a suppliant and must pay a high price for the men obtained. With this goes almost invariably a system of pensions involving no small outlay, and the two combined inevitably swell within a few years to enormous proportions. Our own history furnishes abundant corroboration of this fact.

The other system is that of compulsory military service. That is the method universally pursued in Europe and the reason is obvious—the necessary number of men is obtained at the minimum of cost. With the voluntary system, the expense of great armies—such as those of France, Germany, Austria and Russia—would be more than any national exchequer could stagger under. Compulsory military service possesses certain notable advantages to the nation, such as the development of good physique, knowledge of hygiene, the inculcation of obedience and true patriotism. Political economists as a whole agree that factory production in Germany is greatly augmented by the military training previously received by their operatives. On the other hand, the expense of maintaining a large army is enormous. It is one of the most heartrending problems ahead of the out-rageous and abnormal confusion in Europe, a problem that unless solved successfully may wreck kingdoms and destroy empires.

RIPLING RHYMES.

HYMN OF HATE.

It makes no odds if people hate you, if they malign you and berate you; for if you're walking circumspectly, and doing your devil correctly, what people say will never hurt you, or hurt the peace from your virtue. Let people hate you, if that action affords them solid satisfaction. It's when you hate yourself, my neighbor, that hatred breeds, as with a saber. When I left home this morning, growing, and showed the folks a village scowling, and spoke no word that they might treat me as one of their whole day's pleasure. That's why I hate myself so deeply, that's why I hold myself so cheaply, and when one hates himself like blazes, he can't be soothed with cheer-up phrases. And every time we are descending to doing things that need defending, remorse is in our bosoms grating; we know the bitterness of hating.

WALT MASON.

Germany Don't Say It.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] British officials have been charged with getting down to their offices late in the morning because of too much "bridge" the night before. Somehow, we don't hear the German officials charged with too much "skat."

A Real Question.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] "Take away capitalism," says Henry Ford, "and the war in Europe will stop tomorrow." But what will you do with it after you have taken it away?

Acas Up.

[Judge:] Mrs. Willis: You talked in your sleep last night.
 Mrs. Willis (anxiously): What did I say?
 Mrs. Willis: You must have been dreaming of your boyhood days when you slept with your brother Asa, for every little while you would mutter, "Asa's up."

Junk-shop Business Also

Legitimate Clubs go into Council Hearing.

Three resolutions in the interest of public morals were unanimously adopted by the Police Commission yesterday, defining that body's policy to be against further issuance of liquor licenses for cafes, against any more basement cafes in the city and against the issuance of any more junk licenses.

Owing to the growing number of applications for cafes and junk dealers' establishments, the commission was virtually forced to take some decisive action. It was the sense of Mayor Sebastian and his associates on the commission that there are enough cafes now selling liquor in Los Angeles, and enough dealers buying and selling junk.

The resolution against further issuance of liquor licenses for restaurants does not affect the establishments already in operation, nor does it prevent the commission from transferring any license from the first to second class, or vice versa.

The present liquor ordinance does not limit the number of restaurant licenses and there are now 103 in Los Angeles. "It appears to the satisfaction of the board that the number now in existence is sufficient for the accommodation of the public with the present population," says the board's resolution.

"The location of such a business in basement rooms of buildings requires considerable additional police supervision and does not comport with public welfare and safety," says the resolution, placing the ban on down-stairs cafes.

The resolution declaring against more junk dealers' permits merely asserts that, while the license ordinance is still pending in the Council, the Police Commission will refrain from issuing any further licenses.

The commission denied all pending applications for cafe and junk licenses without prejudice. The policy laid down, however, will probably be followed in future.

LICENSES—AND JOLTS.
One social club license was granted yesterday. The Antlers' Club, which has had an application pending for some weeks, was granted a license.

The report that Harry E. Prettyman, the show manager for the licensed and ill-fated Whiffen campaign, was to be manager of the club, was shown to be unfounded. The club, which appeared before the Police Commission, this license is a transfer from one club that has defaulted, and does not increase the number in the city.

Officers of the Alhambra social club at Eighth street and Central avenue, and the Fred Douglas Club at No. 561 Central avenue, were cited to appear next Tuesday to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked for violations of the law reported by the Chief of Police. Selling liquor to nonmembers and other alleged violations are charged to the two clubs.

The commission granted a poolroom license to Harry Eisenberg at No. 112 South Main street, after having denied the license a fortnight before, and reopened the matter last week when it was shown that the protest against the place was filled with misrepresentation and duplicated signatures. Mr. Eisenberg had a majority of the franchise in the block on his petition.

The long fight against a poolroom at Culver City was decided in favor of the protestants when the application of Eugene G. Mason was denied.

The purpose of shutting off further junk licenses, says the Mayor, is to curb so far as possible the expense of supervision of junk establishments. Several detectives are employed constantly by the city, the Public Service Commission and various corporations to inspect these places, and as there are now nearly two dozen in the city, the Police Commission considers it time to stop creating new places.

The Police Commission took another step toward cleaning up the underworld all music out of saloons after January 1. The commission received a recommendation from the Chief of Police that an order of that nature be issued, owing to the vast number of complaints received. The commission had granted permission to saloons to put in automatic players, but the disturbance has been fearful.

COUNCIL AND SOCIAL CLUBS.
While the commission was wrestling with various problems affecting civic morals, the Council was engaged in heated debate over the pending social club ordinance. Several worthy titles were offered by members of the Council and representatives of various social clubs. Councilmen Topham and Thaler had a hot four-cornered debate with Frank A. Garbutt of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and Ed Lyman of the California Club, who defended the ordinance as placing the legitimate club in the same class with the blind pigs. They opposed closing club bars at 1 o'clock in the morning and inveighed against the provision preventing the carrying of liquor away from the premises.

Councilman Wright refused to vote on the ordinance and it went over a week. After the paragraph on alcoholic beverages and wineries at the mercy of the Police Commission was eliminated, Mr. Wright asserted that the police have power now to curb the social club evil.

Various spokesmen for clubs addressed the Council, but a warning was given them that unless there is a conference between the clubs and the City Attorney to devise a more acceptable substitute, the present ordinance will be up for passage next Tuesday.

Notices were sent to various club representatives yesterday to be at a conference with the Council Welfare Committee on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Council committee-room. The meeting followed the same and an effort will be made to reach a solution of the problem along lines different from those laid down in the pending ordinance.

AT THE NEWMAN CLUB.
Mr. Rev. William E. Carr of Fall River, Mass., read a paper on "Some Phases of Catholic Social Work" last evening before the Newman Club at the Hotel Clark. He has spent years in the promotion of social work in the Church. The reading followed the regular monthly dinner of the Newman Club at which forty covers were laid.

YAMATO REORGANIZED.

Popular Japanese Store Revived and Reopened Under New Apices.

Eastern visitors are always interested in the oriental flavor lent to our city by the presence here of Japanese and Chinese stores and shops and regret has often been expressed that these were growing fewer as time has passed.

It is, therefore, a pleasure to learn that the Yamato, No. 625-7 South Broadway, which has for some weeks been selling out with a view to closing its business, has been taken over, lease, stock and fixtures, by a San Francisco firm, headed by J. Kolke, and that as soon as the remaining stock of the former company is disposed of, an entirely new stock will be installed and the store will be re-decorated and reorganized throughout.

The Yamato was always a high-class establishment and the new management promises to maintain the same standard. Lovers of the oriental will be gratified to learn of the continuance of this, the largest Japanese store in the city.

SYRACUSE AND OREGON AGGIES.

Two Great Teams to Mingle in Football Today.

Line Plunging Promises to be a Feature.

Big Orange Team Favorites to Start.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 30.—Interest in tomorrow's intercollegiate gridiron battle between the representatives of Syracuse University and the Oregon Agricultural College on Multnomah Field reached the bursting point this afternoon with the arrival of Coach Dr. Stewart's proteges.

WORK OUT. Early this afternoon the Aggies arrived and were taken immediately to the scene of the greatest gridiron duel in the history of Oregon, where Coach Stewart sent them through a snappy signal drill after which he announced that his athletes were fit and ready for the hardest battle of their career.

A SURPRISE. This afternoon the players were given final instructions in the use of a new formation which will be sprung for the first time tomorrow. Perfection of detail and accuracy are the keystones of the play and every member of the varsity received minute instructions in how to handle himself during the progress of the formation.

ADVANTAGE. Syracuse will have a slight weight advantage when the teams line up as follows, for the kick-off at 2 o'clock:

ATHLETIC BREACH IS NARROWING.

STANFORD ARRANGES TO MEET CALIFORNIA'S BASKET TOSSERS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 30.—Stanford University has made arrangements for basketball games with six universities and colleges. Listed among these is a contest with California, set for March 1. This game may be turned into an argument between the freshmen team of each institution, but nevertheless it seems a step toward the renewing of athletic relations between the two schools.

PAPPAS TO MEET CLAPHAM IN BOUT.

MEN WILL WRESTLE TO FINISH AT WESTERN ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Western Athletic Club will be the scene of a finish wrestling match between Gus Pappas and Sam Clapham on the evening of December 5. The wrestling will be of the catch-as-catch-can style.

TY COBB NOW VERY DOCILE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—During his stay in the city today, Hughey Jennings took occasion to pay Ty Cobb a compliment.

"Cobb is a different man from what he used to be," said Jennings. "He has governed his temper and as a result is of much more value to his team than he was in former years. His playing during the last campaign was absolutely marvelous, and all because he kept his mind on the game and did not allow the remarks hurled at him to interfere with his playing."

"Cobb has determined to attend strictly to business. He wants to regain the esteem of the fans, which was on the wane a few years ago when he could not control himself and got into several scrapes, which did not help his reputation. But that now is all forgotten and Ty is sure to be the most popular player in the game if, as he vows, he will continue to govern his temper."

TIGER FRESHIES BEAT HOLLYWOOD

BUT FOOTHILLERS SLIP OVER ONE SCORE.

Big Brooks is the Chief High Scorer for the Winners—Brown Shows Speed, but Neglects to Tackle the Runner—Bob Creswell Finds New Way to Make Down.

BY JAMES DE CAMP.

In a game of football which might have looked good for a preseason practice the Occidental freshmen proved their supremacy over the Hollywood Foothillers yesterday. The score was 27 to 7.

ONCE MORE. A few minutes later a forward pass from Brooks to Odell took the argument to the 10-yard line of the home team. Creswell sent Brooks over the line on a pass, but no goal was kicked.

From that time on the freshmen seemed to lose their clam and began to fumble with starting regularity. In the second quarter Joe Santos of Hollywood got away for a 46-yard run and Henry kicked goal, piling up the total score for Moody's team.

WILD STUFF. The rest of the game was a combined see-saw and ring-around-the-rosy affair. In the third quarter, after a series of wild end runs, McClintock rolled across the line for another freshman touchdown, and the mighty Brooks kicked goal.

In the last quarter, while it was getting dark and the timekeeper was counting the seconds, Brooks pried himself loose from the sack, staggered over the line with several red and white jerseys wrapped around his neck, and then kicked the goal on his own touchdown.

RAH FOR BROOKS.

A frisky young gent by the name of Brooks got into the game at guard during the last half and caused quite a lot of excitement. Coach Sid Foster yelled from the side lines that he did not believe Brooks could run as fast as a washerwoman. Kid Brown became peeved. He settled himself on his marks and on the next play dashed into the field in great style. During his little jaunt he passed the Hollywood man carrying the ball by a matter of inches and permitted his opponents to get away with a 15-yard gain. Another sensation was registered when Quarter Bobby Creswell dropped the ball, booted it ten feet and then fell on it again, making downs for the Tiger freshmen.

THRILLS GALORE FROM MAGNATES

Ty Cobb no More Valuable than Recruits.

That's the Way Griffith Would Have It.

High Prices Make Players Get Swelled Up.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—With the advent of December, magnates of the National and American leagues will buckle down to the problems slated for consideration at their annual meetings. John K. Tener and his associates will sit at the National gub-fest in Gotham December 14 and on the following day Ban Johnson will call his brethren in the Junior circuit to order at the Congress Annex, Chicago.

THRILLS GALORE are looked for at both sessions now that the Federals have paraded to the plate, declaring their intentions to continue hostile in 1916.

LESS TRIP. Johnson recently brought his foot down on barnstorming tours featuring athletes employed in the American League. Now comes the tip from New York that Tener will issue a similar mandate when the National Leaguers gather about.

CLARKE GRIFFITH of the Washington club admits failure to crop a headline role by demanding a shake-up in the rules governing the sale of players from one club in the league to another at fabulous prices.

GRIFFITH would make the value of every American League pastime equal if a club desires to dispose of one of its athletes to a rival crew he argues it can do so at a stipulated amount, the figures being named by the regulation governing such dealings.

ALL WRONG. The present sale system is all wrong, Griff avers. He went on the warpath early last season when the Athletics took to marketing diamond stars. When Connie Mack completed his sales the lump sum represented in the negotiations read $100,000 or thereabouts.

THE OLD FOX rises to a point of order contending that such deals have the effect of giving players a false impression of their value to a team, and hence causes them to expect more salary than it is really possible for them to earn for their clubs.

BEST TROUT SEASON IN YEARS SAY FISHERMEN.

ALTHOUGH the 1915 trout season ended but yesterday, plans for next year are already afoot and actual work for the best season yet has been begun.

Fish and Game Commissioner Pritchard leaves early this morning for the Bear Valley to set traps for hatchery stock and take inventory of the streams.

Within a few days a big $30,000 hatchery will be in process of erection in the Owens Valley. A staff of experts is giving its entire time to preparing the best sport for the anglers next year.

This mammoth plant will not cost the taxpayer a cent but is entirely paid for from the proceeds of game licenses. It will be set in parklike surroundings and become one of the showplaces of the State.

The trout season came to a gentle death yesterday and was laid in its watery grave by a score or more of merry pall bearers wearing hip boots and carrying creels.

Those who went fishing on the last day did not compose a legion. Far from it. But they came back with full baskets, the broadest of smiles, and the most optimistic of predictions for next year.

Although the season remained open a month longer than usual few anglers availed themselves of the extra privilege. A late close is the best thing imaginable for the trout season since the melting snows drive the big fishes into the main streams where there is room for a good cast.

The fish are also gamier this time of year. Their food is scarcer than ever and they spell fight from nose to the tip of the tail. No less an authority than Al Reed says: "The best time in the year to fish for trout is in November. There have been more big fish taken from the Seape River this month than during the other months of the season combined."

The Seape seems to run first in the consensus of opinion as the best place to seek the finny beauties. Big Bear and Little Bear lakes carry a close second.

Phil Brocklesby, who has been casting flies ever since Bryan got his first shave, wishes to place himself on record as a backer of the Big Bear. Brocklesby thinks that the past season is the most successful he has witnessed in many years and is strong for keeping the limit open through November.

The move for the new hatchery is very timely, as local sportsmen were getting rather peeved at paying into the Fish Commission treasury one-fourth of the total income and then getting only about one-twelfth of the disbursements.

The figures show that of $164,111 taken in last year in fishing licenses, etc., Southern California contributed a little over $67,000, while in the matter of returns Southern California got $17,150 out of a total disbursement of $225,038.27.

Southern California is now well on the way to be even more of a fisherman's paradise than it has been to date.

COOMBS TELLS OF "ACCIDENT."

Was not a Return of Any Former Trouble.

Simply Swallowed Tobacco, that's All.

Jack Grew Six Inches, then Shrunk Five.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The collapse of Jack Coombs while pitching for Brooklyn against Boston last summer was the basis for many excited wire stories.

These stated that it was feared Coombs had suffered an injury similar to that which befell him in the world series of 1911, and that he might never be able to throw a baseball again. He was helped from the field, and some very dire things were predicted. The incident provided many columns of matter for the sob writers, who pictured in striking language the second and final collapse of the "fire man."

THE REASON. Coombs, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, let out the secret. Jack didn't collapse, exactly. He accidentally swallowed a chew of tobacco, which was even worse, although accompanied by no permanent ill effects.

Everybody who reads baseball will recall the accident of 1911. Coombs was pitching against Marquard in the big play-off. They both took approximately the same length of step while pitching, and between them they were a hole back to the rubber. As a result of this, Jack's foot slipped and he twisted his hip. He was helped from the field, and this injury followed by a protracted illness was supposed to have ended his career as a pitcher.

A SENSATION. However, he came back this year as a member of the Brooklyn Nationals, and his work was the sensation of the country. But one fine mid-summer day something happened to him while pitching against Boston. He caught his spikes while delivering the ball, and then staggered to one side. It was necessary to assist him from the diamond.

Everybody got excited, and took it for granted that he had suffered a recurrence of the old injury. In fact, that is the general impression still prevailing. Great surprise was expressed when he recovered shortly and resumed his place in the box.

REALLY SICK. "I wasn't hurt to speak of, but I was a mighty sick man," said Coombs last night. "I only chew tobacco when I am pitching. The licorice, or whatever it is in the tobacco, seems to give me a better grip on the ball. I caught my spikes and tripped in the process of throwing the ball. This twisted my hip, it is true, but that was not what did the damage. I was trying to recover myself I swallowed that quid of tobacco—and it was strong tobacco, too. You know the effect that the first chew or the first smoke has on a kid. Well, swallowing this hunk had the same effect on me, only more so. I was gone—deadly sick—drier than a man with a weak stomach on his first sea voyage. Walk, I should say not."

Cliffdwellers Amuse Themselves Playing Marbles, Spinning Tops and Knitting

ENTHUSIASM OVER SPORT.

Top-spinning is now the favorite pastime.

Football Player Carries Knitting for Excitement.

Amuses Them, but Fails to Help Much.

The students of Los Angeles High School made good their boast yesterday that they would play tag on the front lawn and marbles on the gravel driveway of the ancient institution.

They seemed to have a good time doing it too although the amount of good it will do them in restoring their broken athletic relations with other high schools is hardly appreciable to the naked eye.

Their bones aching for a little excitement, and their bosoms heaving with the pent-up desire for school athletics, a large number of the athletes and athletically-inclined spent their spare time yesterday indulging in spirited contests on the checker board, shooting "midgets" on the campus or playing leap-frog on the front lawn, all because the ban had been put upon interscholastic athletic meets at the Hilltop institution.

One student, a member of the Blue and White football squad, felt the lack of enthusiasm so keenly that he brought his knitting to school with him and spent the whole noon period plying his needle, while an excited crowd of athletic rosters gazed on to the tune of "You Can't Beat L. A. High."

On the school steps several footballers enjoyed themselves in a friendly turn of "backs." In the street, blocking the traffic on several occasions, squatted six bunches of marbles shooting honest-to-goodness marbles. From the windows and all points of vantage peered the anxious faces of the feminine admirers, who at every good display of physical vigor, cheered and rooted for old L. A. High.

During the noon period the excitement was intense, spinning tops held the center of the stage. Not a few supporters lost their last cent betting on the second team to win over the varsity. The game remained in a tie. The faculty of the High School expressed itself as highly pleased with the outcome of the abolishment of interschool contests, judging from the announcement which appeared on the bulletin board during the morning. The note read: "The principals congratulate the students on the enthusiasm shown on the campus this morning."

How long the fire will hang over the question of athletics at Los Angeles High is difficult to say. It is hoped by E. W. Oliver, vice-principal, that the matter will be settled by the opening of school next February. He is very doubtful whether a more rapid agreement can be reached between the many schools that are implicated in the squabble.

Coach Featherstone, on the other hand, thinks that within two weeks the question will be settled and the football schedule completed. In the meantime training for baseball and track will continue uninterrupted. At the meeting of the Athletic Council last night a committee of three was appointed to suggest plans by which the students of competing high schools might be led to treat each other with a few less dejected tomatoes and a little more courtesy.

POLY BOYS DO SOME ART WORK.

PAINT SCORE OF THE POLY-L.A. GAME ALL OVER L.A. HIGH.

Frustrated in their first attempt to daub the buildings of the Los Angeles High School with red paint, the students of Polytechnic High made another visit to the institution on the hill last night and daubed both steps and walls. Early arrivals yesterday morning were astonished to find the score of the L.A.-Poly game placarded over the school annex. In great red numerals Poly 19—L.A. 13, glared over the whole campus. The school janitors hastened to remove the telltale score, but with all their efforts the point was plainly visible for several hours.

CITRUS WILL NOT COMPETE.

Pasadena, Whittier and San Diego High Schools will meet to decide the holder of the Southern California Interscholastic championship. So much was decided at the meeting of the Southern California Athletic Council, held at Los Angeles High School last night.

There is no representative from the Citrus Belt League for the simple reason that no eligible team was presented by the representatives of the league present at the meeting. The rules of the State Athletic Federation and those of the Citrus Belt League are so different the members from the latter organization could present no team which would have been eligible.

Pasadena draws a bye and plays the winner of the Whittier-San Diego contest. This game can be played in either city before Friday. If played Friday, it will take place on the Manual Arts field in this city. If played Saturday, it will be at Santa Ana. The officials will be Dean Cromwell, referee; Dave Witmer, umpire, and A. R. Church, head linesman.

Outdoor sports at L. A. High.

This is how some of the athletically-inclined young men in the old red school on the hill whiffed away the noon hour yesterday in silent but pointed protest at the abolishing of athletic contests.

TERRIFIED HIKERS VISIT WITH MOUNTAIN LIONS.

WORD was brought to this city yesterday by a party of hikers returning from a week's tour of the Mt. Baldy region, of the sighting of two immense mountain lions ambling unconcernedly along Lytle Creek Divide on the trail between Telegraph Peak and Mt. Baldy. As the four men comprising the party had nothing more dangerous than mountain sticks with them at the time, they were more than glad to have a deep ravine between them and the visiting cat. As it was, much excitement was caused when the hikers discovered great paw prints directly on the trail a few hundred feet further on.

The party was composed of Fred Tenney of Los Angeles and Irving O. Pecker, Dr. W. E. Holes and Len MacLaren of Claremont. The friends left Claremont a week ago, carrying their camping utensils with them. It was essentially a hiking party and no firearms were included in the equipment. Rumors have been heard from time to time regarding the presence of mountain lions in the vicinity where they were bound. In fact, the United States government has placed a large bounty on these animals. But the hikers had not the slightest idea of meeting any member of the wild feline tribe.

The encounter occurred last Friday morning. The party had stopped to rest beside a ravine that rose to an equal height directly across. As they were talking over their trip, one of the men glanced straight across the depression directly into the eyes of two great cats. By air line the distance was approximately 100 yards between the unarmed men and the animals.

The totally unexpected sight caused the hikers to sit stock still, gazing fixedly at their visitors. The animals glanced superciliously across the ravine, and then ambled casually off, standing back now and then. According to the opinions of each mountain lion measured eight feet from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail. They were exceptionally large animals.

When the hikers resumed action and continued their way, they had traveled probably 200 feet when they came upon a series of mountain lion tracks on the trail, showing that the animals had passed but a short time before.

RECOMMENDS OLD RIVAL.

Biglow Names Sanford for the Coaching Job.

Thinks Graduates Should be the Bosses.

Tom Shelvin's Work Given Nice Boost.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 30.—Lucius H. Biglow, Jr., captain of the Yale team in 1907 and one of Tom Shelvin's assistants on the Yale board of coaches this fall, in a letter to the Yale News today recommends Foster Sanford for Yale's new head coach, with Al Sharpe as second choice.

Biglow declared that any new football system at Yale must be devised only with the advice and consent of the representative Yale football men. Biglow's letter, after making these recommendations, says in part: "I will not attempt to say much about football teams which I have not seen in action, but I suppose that Cornell, of the eastern teams, has the best right to claim the championship. I personally believe, however, that if Cornell and Harvard were to play for the title in late November, Cornell would be very soundly trounced."

"There is little use in discussing Harvard's team, and the Harvard system. They are there and that is all there is to be said. If Haughton remains, in spite of serious losses by graduation, Harvard will have another splendid team next fall. If Haughton leaves Harvard in spite of its system, it will be in a very precarious situation. It is entirely up to Haughton."

"At New Haven this year's season began two days before the Brown game. In the tenth of time Tom Shelvin and his associate coaches were able to take a thoroughly discredited Yale team and give them enough of the fundamentals to win the game. The Yale mental attitude for them to be able to go out and play a very strong Brown team to a standstill."

"The next week showed a vast improvement in both defense and offense, and the men went onto the field for the Princeton game filled with the spirit of the week before. As a result, the Yale team showed in a game that the Yale team had been collectively and won the game."

"The next week came the Harvard game. We have no excuses to offer. The men when they went on the field did not have the same fighting spirit which they had the week before. As a result, they could not reach the pinnacle twice on two succeeding Saturdays. If it had been possible to get these eleven Yale men into the same frame of mind which they had had against Princeton, they would have made it a very interesting fight for Harvard. It was impossible to get the team there, and the score shows the consequences."

"Now what are we going to do about it? Yale did not deserve to win either the Princeton or the Harvard game, if proper foresight, training and preparation go for anything. But this must never be allowed to happen again. The Yale team must be the big game, and all the other games, too, for that matter, far in advance. The material at New Haven will be good next fall. We can ask for no better men to work with than there will be ready at hand."

CLIFFDWELLER WANTS TO MEET TOILER PLAYERS.

THE football game between Los Angeles High School and Manual Arts will be played in spite of the fact that a ban has been placed upon interscholastic athletics at the former institution, according to rumor yesterday.

It has been practically affirmed that the L. A. High team has rearranged in the form of a club and has adopted the moniker Fort Hill Independent Athletic Association, and as such has challenged the Toiler squad, the game to be played next Tuesday on the Vermont field. A damper was placed upon the movement to a slight degree when it was unofficially learned that although Coach Fritsch was anxious to play the game, Principal Wilson of Manual was opposed to the idea.

Both teams are enthused over the prospects of a gridiron battle and school spirit is running high. If it is necessary, the Manual bunch themselves may form an independent club and in that guise accept the bet from the Hilltoppers. In all probability a game will be played in the near future.

LONG AND JIMMY LAND THE FIGHT.

SEEMS THAT THEY WILL STAGE WELSH-WHITE BATTLE IN TIA JUANA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) CHICAGO, HURRAY OF THE TIMES, Nov. 30.—The Lower California Jockey Club of Tia Juana, Mex., has the inside track in the bidding for the lightweight championship fight between Freddie Welsh and Charlie White. For some mysterious reason the Denver folks have been passed up completely for the time being and Tia Juana given the entire preference.

Pollak, from his New York headquarters, has notified Baron Long and Jim Corbett, the Tia Juana racing and boxing moguls, that Welsh will be glad to fight for them. Long is a great friend of the champion, which is helping him much in landing the fight.

Pollak wired Long that he had turned down an offer of $12,500 from Denver. Now Pollak is awaiting the proposition of Long and Corbett, which will be rushed east as soon as the promoters decide how far they can go. Their bid cannot long be delayed for things must be done in a hurry if the battles are to get together on New Year's Day, when the track is thrown open to the public.

WARDENS AFTER LAW BREAKERS.

ARE SEEKING THE HUNTERS WHO USE POWER BOATS.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.) BIG BEAR VALLEY, Nov. 30.—The game wardens of the valley are making a determined effort to break up the practice of some hunters who duck from power-driven boats. Arrests have just been made, and the three men charged will be given a hearing in Colusa today.

The men charged are Harry Hattell, Henry Crain and William Montiel. They deny the charge and say the motor was out of commission at the time they were shooting and the boat was propelled by oars.

Vern Gay of Los Angeles and E. Carroll, Karl Morgan, C. H. Ames and Wilson Spoor of Redlands, who have been staying at the Spoor cabin, went out of the valley today with a lot of ducks. The fishing came to an end and, but Earl D. Finch, B. S. Hatfield, O. H. Anderson and Chaucery Clem had the pleasure of catching the limit before the fun was all over. Duck hunters are having better success on Baldwin Lake than on the big lake now.

ment Jess Willard has boxing since his last here it will be many he will be defeated for champion of the world.

WILLARD A WONDERFULLY IMPROVED BOXER—WILL KEEP TITLE A WHILE.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

Judging from the great improvement Jess Willard has made in his boxing since his last appearance here it will be many years before he will be defeated for his title of champion of the world.

LOOKED 'EM OVER.
I had the pleasure of witnessing a set-to the other afternoon with his sparring partner, Walter Monahan, and was greatly surprised at his work. He boxed three short rounds and, while it was purely in the nature of an exhibition, Jess handed out several things that nothing but high-class boxers ever learn to do.

The most impressive improvement was the wonderful speed shown for such a big man, and speed is a most important factor for a boxer, especially a heavyweight. He seems to have improved at least 50 per cent. in this alone, if such a thing is possible.

A WEAK POINT.
I have heard by several experts of boxing that Willard's weakest point was his body defense. Long-bodied men with small waists invariably are lacking in stamina. But as Jess has neither of these, it does not apply to him. He is one of the most perfectly-built men for his size in the country.

During his bout with Monahan he held his arms wide apart and allowed Walter to slam a dozen hard blows at his stomach and body, without any apparent distress. This was undoubtedly done to make a grand stand play to amuse the crowd. But he later showed one of the most perfect body defenses I have ever seen.

READY TO HIT.
This was done, not by knocking or striking the blows off the body, as is often done by many boxers, but by pulling his arms closely to his body and taking the blows on his arms and elbows, at the same time holding his hands in a position to hit back. This manner of guarding the body is the real old-school stuff and the correct and safest way to protect the body.

Again, when Walter would swing back for his face with the Attell style of avoiding dangerous swings aimed at the head, and proves skill of the highest class.

REAL SPEED.
Willard also showed remarkable speed in using his left for the face. During his last appearance here, with Bull Young, he showed a lack of speed and confidence in this respect. In his set-to with Monahan he shot it out as straight as a dart, as quick as a flash and as true as a rifle shot, and would repeat the blow several times in quick succession, proving again he has discovered the value of a good, fast straight left hand, when backed up by a remarkable reach and plenty of strength and weight.

Owing to the fact that he was boxing an exhibition bout he intentionally held back his right hand and did not use it, so we had no chance

RECOVERED.

After getting the horse plug out of his system, Coombs came back strong. It was a tough experience. Only those who have passed through a like sorrow are qualified to sympathize with him. Hari Maggert had a similar experience here last season. He swallowed a chew while running to second base. He instantly tried to cough up his lunch, and many of those present believed that he was dying. There is only one other thing in the world as painful as swallowing a large juicy chew—and that is to inhale a nice, fat fly.

Coombs is one of the most interesting figures in baseball. Born in Le Grande, Iowa, he reformed at the age of 4 and moved to New England. Thus he early acquired that unmistakable Yankee drawl, and it is a prominent feature of his speech. Coombs is of Quaker parentage, and being a birthright member of that faith, his name is still on the records of the church.

CHUMMY.

Being a birthright Quaker myself and born in Iowa and leaving there at about the same age, we naturally felt quite chummy—although the "thee" and "thou" of our forefathers did not enter into the conversation. Bud Sharpe also was a Quaker, and William Penn and some other big leaguers. So it will be seen that the Quakers are not as slow as a lot of people seem to imagine.

During his four years at Colby College, Maine, Coombs pitched for the varsity, and three of those years he starred on the gridiron. However, when he found that his arm might win him a fortune on the diamond, he decided to take no chances and gave up football. It was while starring as a collegian that he attracted the attention of Connie Mack, under whose banner he later gained national fame. Coombs has never lost his interest in football and is a member of one of the governing bodies in the Middle West. He stopped off on his way West with the All-Stars to officiate in a rah-rah game at Shoshone, Idaho.

OTHER STUNTS.

Swallowing his tobacco is not Jack's only unusual experience. When any athlete's natural growth, it is the general consensus of opinion that he will never be any taller. In fact, it is stated in Holy Writ that a man cannot by thought add one cubit of any part thereof to his stature. That is very true, but there is such a thing as stretching a guy.

Imagine going to bed six feet tall, and getting up six feet and six inches in length. Following his injury in the world series of 1911, Coombs was stricken with typhoid which congested in the region of the spine. It was a mighty serious case, and the physicians at times despaired of his life. Even if he recovered, it was feared that his spine would buckle up and leave him deformed and somewhat shorter. He measured six feet at the time.

STRETCHED.

In order to prevent such a calamity, the skilled physicians put him through the stretching process. They attached some thirty-seven-pound weights to his feet, and some more to his arms. Jack lay in bed thus anchored for something like seventeen weeks. When he was finally released he might have passed for Carl Welsmann or Slim Love. He had a mean attitude of six feet and six inches, and looked like he had been dragged through the mud of a garden hose. However, he had no kick coming, as the doctors had pulled him through and prevented him from coming out a cripple.

He was so elastic and stretched out so amazingly during his illness, that it was necessary to provide a bed of exceptional length for him. In the hospital, this is still known as "Coombs' bed," and is used for extra-long patients.

SHRUNK UP.

After being released, Coombs began to settle on his foundations, and is now only six feet one—or one inch taller than nature intended in the beginning that he should be.

Coombs has nothing but words of warmth and kindness for Connie Mack. This feeling of friendship is mutual. Coombs was instrumental in pitching the Athletics into the world championship in 1910. That year he established a new record for shutout innings, which Walter Johnson barely broke with fifty-six three years later. Coombs topped off this performance by winning three games against the Cubs, and by doing valiant service the following season. In return, Mack carried Coombs through his period of illness. He followed this by giving him his outright release, and giving him a strong letter of recommendation.

tion to President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn club.

"I never have been told exactly why Mack released me," said Jack, "but I have never questioned his motives."

SMALL PAY.

The most Coombs ever drew with the Athletics was $4000 a year, which was small pay compared with what some of the stars were drawing in other cities.

Last night he explained this, and gave his version of why Mack was forced to break up his great combination.

"I received $2200 in 1910 and $2400 in 1911, finally being raised to $4000," said Coombs. "Mack was frank with me about it. He told me that I would be worth $10,000 to McGraw in New York, but that he could not afford to pay it. He then showed me his books. These showed that he had made a profit of less than 2 per cent. on an investment of more than $600,000. And that, mind you, was for the two years in which the Athletics won the American League and world championship. Bender and Plank were drawing $5000 each, Baker $2500 and Collins $7500. As Mack explained, he could not pay these salaries in a 25-cent city. He was forced to get rid of these men, or go broke. It will be only a question of time that he builds up another championship club, and I only hope that it will prove to be a paying investment, for there is no kinder, more deserving man in baseball than Connie Mack."

RIVERSIDE IS AFTER BUTTE.

[SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION.]
RIVERSIDE, Nov. 30.—Principal Hugh Law, on behalf of the boys' Polytechnic High School football team, today transmitted a proposition to the Butte (Mont.) team, the champion football crew of the Northwest, to visit Riverside and play for the undisputed championship of the West. It is stated that Butte has not demanded an unreasonable price, and it is believed that the Montana champions will accept the offer.

The local fans, since the defeat of Los Angeles Poly High by a 44-0 score, are rating the Riverside team at 50 per cent. stronger than any other team in the south. If Butte accepts the proposal made today it is believed the game will be played about December 11.

mains that Willard really did these things, which is conclusive proof that he knows how.

There was nothing of the much-touted cover-up style in his work. He reminded me more of Jim Corbett in his palmist days. While he is not as clever as Gentleman Jim, he has been working along Jim's particular style of boxing, and if he does not try to change that style he is bound to improve rapidly. He stands straight up to his work, giving him much better control of his legs, increasing his speed and giving him an extra advantage of his remarkable height.

FOUND HIMSELF.

Taking his exhibition as a whole I believe an expert said, "Jess has found himself at last." The confidence he has gained in his defeat of Jack Johnson, his age, weight, height, strength, and improvement, he has made in his skill as a boxer, should hold him his title for many years, and should he improve in the next year as he has in the past, we will have a champion of whom we may well be proud and will do a lot toward improving the science of boxing, if imitated by the younger generation of boxers.

AVIATOR WILL FLY AT BEACH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
LONG BEACH, Nov. 30.—Accompanied by his mechanic, Thomas H. Polson, Aviator Harry Christofferson arrived in Long Beach tonight to establish an aviation school in company with Jay Boyd of this city. A hangar is already under construction on the beach for the housing of Christofferson's machine. His first trial flight here is expected to be made Saturday. Christofferson and his wife motored down to Long Beach from San Francisco.

According to Boyd, Christofferson is the most careful and accurate aviator flying in this country today. "He has made 600 flights since January 1, and in that time has experienced no kind of accident or engine trouble," said Boyd tonight, in speaking of his partner's aerial accomplishments. "Christofferson is always careful and does not believe in foolhardy stunts such as are practiced by some of the more sensational man-birds."

to judge his improvement, if any, with that hand. But we are all satisfied that he can hit a terrific blow with it at any time he cares to let it go.

HIS FOOTWORK.

Jess's footwork was also a revelation to the fans present. He was never noted for his speed on his feet. But he executed as clever a sidestepping as any featherweight when Monahan rushed him, and the balance of his body was nearly perfect. His boxing was in unusually good form, with all the earmarks of the beginner eliminated.

About the only fault I was able to find was that he held both hands too low during the entire bout. But it should be remembered that it was nothing but a friendly exhibition to please the crowd, and it is hardly possible that he would dare carry himself in such a position during a championship contest.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

Houdini notched another victory for himself last night at the Orpheum when he defeated Hamburger's champion five boxing experts, headed by D. C. McIvor, in one round of three minutes' duration.

A tremendous crowd packed the Orpheum from garret to cellar to view Houdini accept the challenge of Hamburger Bros., packing department, which stipulated that the magician must escape from a box furnished by the firm, which box should be specially built for the occasion, and the magician confined therein, the cover being nailed on and the box secured by a Hamburg committee and a committee from the audience.

Houdini appeared, examined the box, ordered some air holes bored in it, also ordered that it be extra nailed in view of the audience, after which he took off his coat and collar, rolled up his sleeves and showed the house there was "nothing concealed about him except talent." Everybody examined every body else, and then the magician walked into the box, the cover was nailed on tight and the box was bound with ropes. The box was then placed in the tent cabinet, which itself was placed on a carpet to prevent all trapdoor collusion, and the big committee on the stage, together with the house, took out their watches to time the escape, while the band played "Get Out and Get Under" or something.

In exactly four minutes the cabinet curtains flapped and out came Houdini. The committee examined him to see that it really was Houdini, and then marched down into the audience, whose "Oh's" and "Ah's" resembled the exhaust of an automobile. The box was then brought out in full view, fully roped and apparently intact.

Mr. McIvor of the committee on the stage declared he couldn't hear a sound in the cabinet while Houdini was making his escape. And when the magician himself was interrogated as to how he did it, he explained:

"Well, you know, one way to do it would be to gather all the air holes together and make one big hole through which to escape."

"So nobody's any the wiser today, and Houdini, who, in his preliminary talk, stated that if he were defeated he would never feel free to accept another challenge, may go right on accepting any old challenges you want to hand him, from opening a handcuff to opening a bank account on nothing a year."

New One for Florence.
Florence Rockwell, who plays the lead in "The Misleading Lady" at the Burbank next week, is to star in a new play by George Broadhurst, the production to be made at the Burbank within a few weeks.

Mansfield's Temperament.
Miss Rockwell was leading woman with Richard Mansfield at one time, and relates some stories of Mansfield's "temperament."

"He used to have an awful way of going for you right in the middle of a performance," said the actress. "When we put on 'The Gay Parisian,' the stage director forgot to tell me a bit of business, which was to step up and greet Mr. Mansfield when he appeared on the stage in character. So Mr. Mansfield came in, and as I didn't step forward, he came over to me and muttered: 'Well, well, I'm here! I'm here!' I felt I never could stand any more of bullying like that, so I answered up pretty: 'Oh, are you? Well, I'm very glad to see you,' and put out my hand. He never did anything like that again."

"He used to go around sniffing for tobacco smoke; he hated to have any one smoke in the theater. One night he discharged all the men of the company for smoking, and we women were wondering how we should give the show alone. They left, too, and as we were leaving, and took me home, and sent for them all next day."

Cupid's Bulletin.
Muriel Worth, at the Orpheum, has been twice married to her partner, Lew Brice. The "twice" means a romance, culminating last June. "I met Lew first in Austin, Tex., when I was playing the small time," said Mrs. Lew. "We had been acquainted only about two weeks when we decided to wed. I was only 16, but we eloped and were married. My mother found it out, and came to Houston, dragged us from the train as we were leaving, and took me home and had the marriage annulled."

"For two years we didn't see each other. Both of us moped. Neither of us accomplished anything in our stage work. We didn't correspond. I was in Chicago with my mother on my 18th birthday, last June, and somehow Lew found out where we were. Mother and I were lunching at the Claridge, when I came Lew. He asked me if I wouldn't go with him to call on his mother. I was terribly excited, for, of course, I knew calling on his mother was only an excuse. We went into the next county to get married, and found the county clerk sick in bed, but we went clear out to his house, which was about two miles from the Courthouse—walked—and he signed the license. Then we journeyed back to town and were married. Oh, yes, mamma thinks Lew is perfectly dear now."

Professional Jealousy?
Little Jane Lee, the extraordinarily gifted 4-year-old, who enacts an important role in the latest Theda Bara success, "The Galley Slave," showing this week at Miller's, appeared at the studio while the picture was being made, carrying a disreputable looking cat which she could not be induced to part with. Theda Bara arrived shortly afterward with her rare Russian wolf hound, sent to her from Paris by an admirer. Work was begun, but suddenly loud yowls and howls broke up the scene and into the midst of the set tore the dog with the stray cat firmly planted on his aristocratic neck. They cut a path amidst the smeared actors like lightning. How the dog finally "shook" the cat is not

BOWLING CHAMP ROLLS TONIGHT.

Majestic Alleys will be Scene of Activities.

Ladies' Match to be Given as a Preliminary.

Alex Dunbar of New York will Appear Also.

Jimmy Smith, the champion bowler of the world, is in Los Angeles, and will bowl on the Majestic alleys this evening. Smith figured in a rolling match for a $1000 side bet several years ago and won the series of forty-two games.

He delivers the ball without an ostentatious winding-up and can pick out any pin in the bunch and hit it time after time. Smith starts the ball from the extreme corner and it takes a slight hook toward the 1-3 pocket in its course.

An elaborate programme has been arranged for the evening. The first event will be a three-game exhibition match between Mrs. L. D. Mendor and Mrs. H. C. Scott.

Following this Ernest Shay and Elmer Darrow will meet the wonderful Smith and his partner, Alex Dunbar of New York City. Dunbar is conceded to be one of the best bowlers in the country and is touring with Smith. In Detroit he defeated Billy Miller, the 1914 A.B.C. champion, in three straight.

Champion Smith came in from San Jose yesterday and immediately tested out the Majestic alleys. A committee composed of Andrew Mullin, W. Dunken, Jr., P. P. Simpson, V. Harper, Earl Ray and Harry Colt greeted him at the station.

The Broadway Department Store team and the Red Hussars have postponed their scheduled league match in honor of the Majestic event.

COOM CAPTURES BILLIARD GAME.

The weekly rapid-fire three cushion tournament at Voorhies Billiard Palace last night was won by J. W. Coom after a hard struggle with Eck Harbor. The score was 15 to 14.

It was another night for dark horses, as the talent dropped out in the first game but the winner proved to be a big surprise.

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Eddie Maier returned yesterday from his ranch at Santa Susana, where in company with Manager Patterson he completed plans for the preliminary spring training of the Tigers. While at the ranch, Maier gave instructions for the construction of a more ample diamond to replace the one used last season. The men are to report the second Monday in March, and will undergo a physical examination by Dr. C. W. Cook. The mornings will be devoted to everything from hikes to trap shooting, and each afternoon will see the athletes on the ball field for an hour.

However, the regular diamond grind will not start until the club returns here a week later, and settles down to the hard grind at Washington Park.

Henry Berry hears the call of the wild, and hopes to round up a few of his friends for a quail shoot before he returns to San Francisco. Bob Simpson is among those elected to go.

One versatile paper states that Cal Ewing still controls the Oakland club. In the same sentence it states that Frank Leavitt will sell the Oakland club, having found it a losing venture. Just how Leavitt could lose money in something that he doesn't own, and also sell, it is not entirely clear. Still, the Radiator League must have fuel.

Jack Coombs was surprised to find so many baseball people lurking around Los Angeles. He made special inquiries concerning Frank Leavitt, Doc White, Billy Sullivan, Hughie Jones and Long Tom Hughes. He says that the All-Stars who disbanded in San Francisco, paid expenses and then a little, which was all that they expected. Most of them had planned to come West and take in the exposition and decided that they might as well organize and pick up a little money by playing en route.

Jurist Declares Colorado's Farms are Prospering.

PASADENA, Dec. 1.—Because a herd of mischievous Mexican totos, ranging in age from 4 to 8 years, annoyed them beyond endurance by making faces at them through the windows and by running round and round the house beating tin cans and old dishes, the night class of grown-up Mexicans at Titelyville lost all ambition for learning and was about to disband when Superintendent of Schools Rhodes and the Board of Education came to their rescue.

As a result, the class of men will walk two and a half miles further two nights each week to the Leland Park school, where they will try to do their "readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic" in peace. They do not expect the little totos to go so far with their tin cans and ugly faces.

The class met last night for the first time at Leland Park school and got along beautifully. It was organized by and is sponsored by the Pasadena Presbyterian Church and a Leland Park benefactor, who pays the expenses.

If this class, which is an experiment, proves successful, Mrs. Chapman, wife of Prof. S. A. Chapman, who is teaching it, will organize and instruct another.

PROSPERITY.

Former Supreme Court Justice John Campbell of Colorado, whose home is in Denver, and who arrived in Pasadena yesterday, is full of optimism because of conditions in the Rocky Mountain State.

"This has been a most prosperous year in Colorado," he said, "especially among the agriculturists. Because of the great rains that dry farmers harvested an abundant crop."

"The dry method of farming has become most successful in Colorado. The farmers learn to water the moisture by plowing deep—eight inches or more—and in most cases they use big gasoline motor plows on their farms."

"By this method the land produces from twenty to twenty-five bushels of wheat per acre, or forty bushels of corn, while the same amount of rye, barley or oats can be raised."

The attorney is accompanied by his wife, and they are visiting at the home of Dr. Josephine Jackson, No. 1311 Morton avenue. They have just returned from an extended trip to the Pacific Northwest, and before they return home they will visit both expositions.

FAMILIES OF INTEREST.

Two prominent families arrived in Pasadena from the East yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Carlos de Heredia of Leon, Mass., are domiciled at the Hotel Maryland until they move to the E. H. Greenndyke home in Oak Knoll. They are accompanied by a retinue of seven servants and the first time Mr. de Heredia did yesterday was to have a special watchman placed to guard his bungalow in the Hotel Maryland grounds.

They will be here for six months. Last year they were here, and occupied Sunnyside, the home of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette.

Mrs. de Heredia, who is also accompanied by her sister, Mrs. McDougald, widow of Gen. McDougald, refused to give any information as to her plans, but said she did not want to "get in the papers."

The other prominent family is that of Maj. Charles A. Winship, who are at the Hotel Green. Before coming here they spent some time at Beverly Hills. The major is a great motorist and has been to almost every spot in California where a machine can go.

After suffering a year, John S. O'Brien, Pacific Coast manager of the Dearborn Drug and Chemical Company, died early yesterday morning at his home, No. 630 South Marengo avenue, where he had lived only about three months.

Mr. O'Brien, who came to Southern California twelve years ago from Tucson, Ariz., was 63 years old. He leaves a widow.

For more than a quarter of a century Mr. O'Brien was connected with the Southern Pacific in Arizona. Then he was offered and accepted the position which at his death he had held twelve years. He was a Knight Templar and was a charter member of the Shrine Temple at Phoenix.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. Cremation will be private.

VICTORY THROUGH DEFEAT CLAIMED.

POWER AND GAS PLANT BONDS BEATEN BUT SITUATION IS CLEARED UP.

BY QUARTER-WEEK-END DISPATCH.]

RECONDIDO, Nov. 30.—Victory through defeat is claimed by the city trustees in today's election on the question of voting $50,000 bonds for the acquisition of an electric light power and gas plant from the fact that after the eleventh hour, at a mass meeting under the auspices of the Recondido Mutual Water Company, ex-State Senator Wright, legal adviser, predicted that if present plans should carry the city commissioners of light, power and gas will within thirty days be receiving service by the distributing system of the Recondido Utilities Company, now in the hands of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank as trustees for the bondholders and under the supervision of the State Railway Commission.

The supposition is that an arrangement will be made by the owners or controllers of the Utilities company plant to purchase electric current in bulk from the Mutual Water Company delivered at the city limits to which the poles and lines of the hydro-electric plant of

FOUR FREED BY CORPORATIONS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 30.—The souls that corporations have were apparent to court here today, when defendants in two criminal cases were liberated at the request of the complainants, the Pacific Electric and the Southern California Edison Company.

The latter secured clemency for Joseph Monroe, accused of making off with a $1000 motor car, who came before Justice Cassidy for his arraignment. P. H. Ducker, an official of the company, declared he had investigated and found Monroe has a 5-year-old child suffering with a contagious ailment at the County Hospital, and the wife and another young child are quarantined at home, stricken with the same trouble. Mr. Ducker promised to take Monroe in charge for a year and find employment for him.

The railway company brought about the release of Julius Higley, Harry Barnes and Laurence Smith, small boys of Graham Station, charged with soaping a car track and causing a Watts-line coach a bad five minutes. The case went off calendar a year, amounting to probation.

the water company extend. The manufacture of gas could be continued at the plant of the Utilities company and the electricity could be used for operation of the hydro-electric plant of the water company outside the city.

The city trustees in their desire to secure a municipal lighting and power plant have opposed service to city consumers by the Mutual Water company because the purchase of stock has been deemed necessary and operation would be centered in the larger stockholders without adequate protection. Service through the Utilities company, a public service corporation and subject to the rules of the State Commission, would not require the holding of electric current stock, hence the claim of victory by the city officials.

The vote in today's election was 224 for the bonds and 441 against.

CIRCUS LIFE HAILED.

VENICE, Nov. 30.—The lure of life on the road ended abruptly today for two lads who arrived here "following" a circus. Al Stafford, 17 years old, was taken in hand by the police on request of his father and is to go back to his Upland home tomorrow. James Kellogg, 15 years old, whose home is in Sterling, Kan., was found with young Stafford and is detained while the police await word from his relatives.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 30.—After narrowly escaping apprehension in several States and leading the police in a transcontinental chase of several months, Charles M. Grigsby, former cashier of the Townsend-Vandewater Realty Company of this city, has been arrested in Houston, Tex., according to a telegram received by the police department today.

The message says Grigsby, who is wanted on a charge of embezzlement, will return to Long Beach and face the charge without demanding extradition formalities.

He was a trusted employee of the realty company for several years, handled large sums of the firm's money and transacted some of the biggest realty deals made in Long Beach by the firm he represented.

Although it is believed the former cashier's defalcations ran into the thousands, C. F. Vandewater stated tonight the exact amount of the company's loss cannot be determined until Grigsby arrives and helps straighten out and explain certain financial transactions.

CAGE IN BRITAIN.

John M. Caga, former president of the Los Angeles Submarine Boat Company, of which there are hundreds of heavy stockholders in Long Beach and various Southern California cities, has arrived in London, where he is unfolding the plans of his latest model of undersea craft, according to a cablegram received by friends here today.

Mr. Caga made the trip across the water at the invitation of the British Admiralty to demonstrate his model to the naval experts of England.

The Caga patent had its conception in Long Beach, but has been worked out in detail in the inventor's laboratory in Detroit, Mich. The new submarine is built along the lines of his first boat, erected and successfully tested in Long Beach Harbor. The inventor says his latest craft will remain under water ninety days at a time and have a speed of thirty knots per hour submerged.

Another feature of the new submarine which Mr. Caga is showing the foreign warship engineers is his periscope, which he says can be replaced in three seconds. This overcomes a difficulty experts have been endeavoring to solve for years, according to naval men.

ARM POLICEMAN WITH A CLOCK.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 30.—Instead of a gun this city's night watchman is to be armed with a six-pound clock. The night police force, Hermann Boshardt, is hereafter to render to the City Trustees an accurately punched record of his nightly vigil by means of the timepiece, which is to be worked with twelve keys located at various points and each to be used at the proper time.

How the clock is to be punched at the proper moment when the entire police force is chasing speeders or putting a drunk to bed in the city jail has not yet been determined, but the Trusts think a "reasonable explanation" will suffice.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 30.—The trail of Robert F. Guilfoyle, local newspaper advertising manager who is sought on a charge of forgery sworn to today by J. H. Wilson, cashier of the savings bank on which Guilfoyle is accused of passing a check after forging his wife's name as an endorsement, ended today in San Francisco, where detectives found Guilfoyle, who arrived Sunday morning.

The disappearance of Guilfoyle, followed by the sensational announcement of the startling developments, caused general comment today in this city, where Guilfoyle had moved in the best society and club circles.

The cause of his action cannot be explained. In September he married Miss Hazel Cochran and their home had borne every evidence of being happy, friends declare. The check for $1000, on which the forged endorsement is alleged to have been made, was a wedding gift to Mrs. Guilfoyle from her mother, Mrs. M. M. Cochran.

After depositing the check to his own account in a different bank, Guilfoyle drew out $500, it is charged, and securing $150 in travelers' checks and a number of articles on credit, dropped from sight Saturday night, while his wife awaited his appearance in Los Angeles to attend a prearranged theater party. It is believed that Guilfoyle planned the Los Angeles trip to allow himself the opportunity to get away. Every indication points to the fact that his departure had been planned for some time, it is said.

Because of an alleged difference over money, William Newby today shot and fatally wounded Archie Cooper in front of his home at No. 871 North Central street. The injured man died in the County Hospital at noon, and Newby occupies a cell in the County Jail, charged with murder. Both men are colored.

According to the officers, they wrangled over the telephone in regard to the payment of a meat bill at a store where they both traded. Cooper left his home, which is only a short distance from Newby's and when he reached the street, found Newby waiting on the front porch. Cooper's wife accompanied him.

"Don't you come a step closer," ordered Newby, and as Cooper continued to approach, he stepped into the house and secured a .44 Winchester rifle, leveled it at Cooper, and fired.

TOO MUCH LIKE CATS AND DOGS.

NAGGED AND FOUGHT, SAYS COURT GIVING DIVORCE.

"Don't See Any Use Keeping Them Together," Remarks Judge After Hearing Long Tales of Domestic Rows at Inglewood Ranch Home, so He Parts Couple.

Oscar E. Silnick and his wife, Laurette V. Silnick, came into Judge Monroe's yesterday afternoon with a story to tell. Mr. Silnick told his first because he had brought the suit for divorce. Being a public accountant, and a chicken fancier on the side, he had a good memory for dates and facts, but his recital did not suit Mrs. Silnick, who almost constantly wore a smile of disbelief.

The testimony showed that Mr. Silnick had filed suit for divorce April 27, the day after he left home at Inglewood, but dismissed it June 1. He said his friends and the friends of his wife thought they ought to get together, and he discussed the problem with Mrs. Silnick.

"She said she wanted me to sign a paper making the property over to her. I told her I would sign it, but that I wanted peace and happiness. Then she asserted she would make her will in my favor to satisfy me so that the property would come back to me. She treated me nicely for two or three weeks."

"October 6, while I was packing eggs, she swore at me. She said she would kill me with a hammer if I came around. While I was taking my wife and her sister downtown in the machine, my wife told me she had enough property to take care of herself and that I had nothing to do out there. She declared we had lost respect for one another and could not live together. She said I could go ahead and get a divorce. I got out of the machine at Sixth and Hill streets and never went back."

"During the cross-examination of Mr. Silnick by Attorney Walter R. Leeds, the former was asked about the tapping of his pockets by Mrs. Silnick. He had told the court she had taken out $50."

"I don't think there is any cruelty about this," remarked the court, "if a man is content enough to leave money in his pants."

A letter from a bevy of women in the spectators' seats indicated that the court had hit a bullseye.

The incident of a suit case was brought out by Mr. Leeds and also denied by Mr. Silnick. The questions were directed to Judge Wood, for Mr. Silnick had not brought a suit case home which contained women's lingerie.

"That suit case had no women's gowns in it," he replied, "unless my wife put them there. She always accused me of going with other women."

Mrs. Silnick charged her husband in a cross-complaint with cruelty and habitual intoxication. She denied his allegations, and showed by witnesses that he had struck her.

Judge Monroe granted Mrs. Silnick a decree on her cross-complaint and gave her all the property the husband had decided to her. Having complained that Mrs. Silnick kept some of her personal property which she said she had sent to him by an expressman, the court ordered Ballif Cronin to accompany Mr. Silnick to Inglewood and get the articles if they are there. The decree will be held up pending this act.

In summing up the court said habitual intemperance had not been proven. April 26, Mr. Silnick had gone to the ranch looking for trouble and had found it. There was no question that she scratched and kicked her husband, the court said. She nagged him.

"They fought like cats and dogs," continued the court, "but I don't see any use in keeping them together. There might be a reversal of my judgment, but I don't care. I will grant her a decree on the ground of cruelty. But her actions are such that I would not give her a dollar if he was worth $50,000."

Mrs. Silnick seemed pleased although she objected to Mr. Silnick recovering a revolver which she claimed she had given him. Attorney Dehn also seemed satisfied, although his client did not win the decree.

PROBATE WILL.

ESTATE OF DRUGGIST.

The will of D. W. Kirkland, bequeathing his $200,000 estate in equal shares to his brothers and sister, was probated yesterday. The heirs are John, Alexander and James Kirkland, and Mrs. Catherine Kennedy. The latter is the wife of the president of the Inter-Island Steamship Company of Honolulu. John Kirkland is one of the owners of the American Drug Company.

D. W. Kirkland was one of the founders of the Owl Drug Company, and held a large block of stock of the American Drug Company. He was a pioneer of Los Angeles and the Fremont Hotel. He never married.

The executors are Mrs. Kennedy, who resides at Honolulu, and H. O. Trowbridge, the latter a business associate of the decedent.

ILLICIT TRAFFIC.

PUNISH LAWBREAKERS.

On the affidavit of Patrolman C. E. Perry that J. Oddous was again conducting the house at No. 150 South Alameda street with Louise Horne, who was also under the ban, Oddous was brought before Judge Wellborn yesterday charged with contempt and fined $14, covering the costs, which he paid and was released. The place was ordered closed for a year under the Redlight Abatement Act.

Louise Horne fared worse. She was asked to be privileged to pay a fine, but Police Judge White, before whom she appeared, declined to accept the money, stating that in such cases it was merely legalizing the kind of business Mrs. Horne was charged with being engaged in. She was sent to jail for 120 days.

SHATTER DREAM.

WEALTH IS NOT HIS.

Courted on his employer's time and with his employer's machine, was the unhappy awakening of Miss Lillian Humbrecht, who was the only heir of E. Silbert, according to the story unraveled in Judge Monroe's court yesterday. Mr. Silbert, it appears, fell in love with Miss Humbrecht, who was 20 years old and very attractive. She says he told her he had a large allowance. The auto in which he called to see her was his uncle's, she was led to believe, and he was the only heir. The picture he painted was alluring, and the couple eloped to Santa Ana and were married, February 14, 1914. Then came the awakening. Mrs.

NOTE HELD VALID.

The signers of the "Declaration of Independence" $10,000 note many of whom are lawyers, were held responsible for its payment by a jury in Judge Woods' court yesterday afternoon. The judgment was in favor of the Union Escrow and Realty Company, which brought suit against forty-six members of State societies who signed the note in order to obtain money to make the first payment on the Federation of State Societies' Building on West Seventh street.

The note was circulated for signatures late in 1912. When the dream of the State Societies did not materialize, suit was started to collect on the note. The forty-six signers agreed that they could not be held liable for the reason that when they signed the note, it was understood 100 signatures were required. The required number was not obtained.

BACK TO JAIL.

FOR NUDE PICTURES.

J. T. Valpey, who was arrested, charged with contributing to the delinquency of Miss Muriel D. Copping, a Canadian girl, subsequently married, was committed to the County Jail by Judge Myers yesterday when one of his contumacious witnesses for the defense was held in contempt.

It was also stated that an investigation has started by Chief Deputy District Attorney Cryer and Probation Officer L. M. Timmons, which promises new developments.

Valpey is charged with having taken photographs of girls in the nude at his farm near El Monte. Miss Copping was one of those who applied in response to an advertisement. Valpey says he did nothing objectionable, and he had told her he was making his fight for probation.

ABOUT THE COURTS.

FREE BLIND BLIND PIGGER.

Desidero Lucera, an 80-year-old blind man, convicted of operating a "blind pig" at Pomona about four months ago, was released from the County Jail yesterday on parole. Public Defender Wood secured this for the prisoner, who had about half of a 24-hour sentence to finish. The old man was sent to Topanga Canyon for a short time, but because it required the office of another prisoner to lead him about and care for him, he had to be returned to Los Angeles. Relatives promised to take care of him.

ADMITTS ATTACK. Albino Estrella entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon Karl Clark, a Pacific Electric employee. He told Judge Houser yesterday afternoon that he realized his wrong and apologized to the man he had wounded slightly, to the court and any one else whom he had caused trouble. The reason for his misdeed, he stated, was that Clark had run into the buggy in which he and his wife were driving and that the old lady was injured. "It enraged me to see this and I acted too hastily in shooting," he said. His argument for probation will be heard Monday.

Obstinate cases of kidney trouble, backache and rheumatism yield to no remedy but An-uric. It has made hundreds of men and women firm endorers of it, for it does just what it is claimed to do—stops rheumatic pains, drives uric acid back out of your system.

ment of Los Angeles was stolen by an association of legal conspirators. A dirty job was pulled on Mayor Harper and being ignorant of the plot he resigned and one of the plotters was appointed to his office. Since then all civil service appointments favored the members of this association of conspirators. The Board of Public Works in the near future will control the money from the aqueduct bonds. It will be necessary for Mayor Sebastian to have spiritual control of this money. All officials not in spirit with the conspirators will be let out of the city service during Sebastian's time in office."

Rose Hill Grades.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday recommended to the Council that the Pacific Electric prepare and submit plans for the separation of grades on Rose Hill. Engineer Howell in his report pointed out three ways in which the grades can be separated—first, by removing the tracks to the east side of the valley; secondly, by separating the grades at Mission road and later at other places in Rose Hill, and, thirdly, to make a complete separation from the bridge at Bardwell to the old dam at the end of the four-track system. This plan was adopted by the Board of Public Utilities and provides that a wooden trestle be installed in two years, later to be filled with earth, making an embankment through the entire district.

Jobless In-and-outers.

The new jitbus ordinance prohibiting riding on fenders, runningboards and doors of autos goes into effect today, and the police department is prepared to enforce the ordinance. The Public Safety Committee of the Council yesterday decreed that passengers be permitted to sit on the doors of the jitbus, providing the feet and a reasonable part of the body hang inside, so there will be no unreasonable lopping over the gutters to come in contact with passing traffic.

Center on Crossings.

Councilman Topham, chairman of the Public Works Committee, held a conference with President Paul Shoup of the Pacific Electric yesterday over three crossing matters. As a result of the conference Chairman Topham, City Engineer Hamlin and Pacific Electric engineers will today visit the crossing on the Covina line at Tremont and Zonal and the site of the proposed Exposition boulevard intersection. The question of jurisdiction was raised in behalf of the defendant, and the court took the case under advisement until Saturday morning. In the meantime Boone is at liberty on a bond of $6000.

Municipalities.

The final meeting of the Board of Freeholders will be Thursday night.

ORDINANCE DEFECTS FIXED.

The Council yesterday passed salary ordinances designed to correct salary discrepancies for city officials. Salaries increased or decreased in violation of the charter were adopted on recommendation of the Finance Committee. City Prosecutor Williams is given his former salary of $225 a month, reduced to $200 to which it was reduced during the budget making period in violation of the city charter.

City Purchasing Agent Baker was given an increase from $175 to $200 a month, commencing January 1. The $25 increase is to be returned by Mr. Baker to the city to pay the excess salary he has been receiving for two years past in violation of the charter.

The Council also adopted an ordinance giving the City Treasurer an increase of $50 a month, beginning January 1, which will make the salary for the office of the Finance Committee. The incumbent will be succeeded on January 1, probably by Miles S. Gregory, and it is understood that Purchasing Agent Baker will be supplanted by another appointee.

CONSPIRATORS!

NOW HAVE HOLD OF CITY.

The Board of Public Works yesterday received the following letter from Elmer Knapp:

"In the year 1908 the city government of Los Angeles was stolen by an association of legal conspirators. A dirty job was pulled on Mayor Harper and being ignorant of the plot he resigned and one of the plotters was appointed to his office. Since then all civil service appointments favored the members of this association of conspirators. The Board of Public Works in the near future will control the money from the aqueduct bonds. It will be necessary for Mayor Sebastian to have spiritual control of this money. All officials not in spirit with the conspirators will be let out of the city service during Sebastian's time in office."

SCORES MOTHER FOR DESERTION.

BINDS HER TO SUPERIOR COURT FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE FOR HER CHILDREN.

Mrs. Pearl Wilson was bound over to the Superior Court by Justice Sumner yesterday afternoon after preliminary hearing on charges of having failed to provide for and abandon her two children, Beatrice, a 2-year-old girl, and Chester, a sixteen-month-old boy. The court refused to reduce her bail of $2500, and told the young woman, who is a minor, that her actions showed an unaccountable lack of motherhood.

"Leaving these two babies with an utter stranger and failing to call for them or inquire as to their health would indicate as little regard as one would ordinarily show baggage of little value deposited in any old place," said the justice.

Attorney William Hamlin, appearing for Mrs. Wilson, declared that her husband, Bert W. Wilson, was living at Orange for more than a year, and that the husband, by law, is the one actually responsible for the care of the children. It developed that George F. Whittey of the Children's Home Society, who swore to the complaint against Mrs. Wilson, had made no effort to locate Mr. Wilson.

An attempt was made by Deputy District Attorney Paul Warden to introduce testimony to the effect that Mrs. Wilson is not the husband of the girl, but this was ruled out on the ground of being mere hearsay. Chief Probation Officer Scott of Santa Ana declared that he had arrested the girl on another charge.

Outside of the courtroom, he declared that he had received information to the effect that Mrs. Wilson is in reality, Mrs. John Erickson of Westville, Okla. He alleges that she was originally married to Mr. Erickson and about two years ago eloped with Wilson, coming to California, where the latter had deserted her.

Mrs. Wilson claims that this is untrue and that the father of her children is Bert Wilson. Word from her father was yesterday received and it is probable that he will aid her in her trouble, coming here in a few days from Oklahoma. An oil strike has been made on some of his property recently which greatly enhances its value, and is said to have suddenly placed him in the millionsaire class.

Mrs. Wilson's mother was a member of the Cherokee tribe of Indians. Upon reaching her majority, the young woman now languishing in jail, will come into possession of some valuable land that has been held for her by the government under the tribal land act.

"THE NEW CHINA."

Rev. L. A. Gould will deliver a popular mission study lecture on "The New China" tonight from 7:10 to 7:30 o'clock in Bertram Hall, Temple Auditorium. Missionary operations and opportunities will be especially discussed. Maps and charts will be used for illustrations and "Confucius and China" will appear on the platform in costume.

CHALLENGES JURISDICTION.

The preliminary examination of H. H. Boone, colored, who alleges he is a Presbyterian minister, and is charged with fraud in connection with the execution of legal papers involving a lot in Moosejaw, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, took place yesterday. The question of jurisdiction was raised in behalf of the defendant, and the court took the case under advisement until Saturday morning. In the meantime Boone is at liberty on a bond of $6000.
